

The Bad Hair Day

Bailey was a girl, who had curly hair. Bailey loved her curls, but her curls didn't love Bailey.

When Bailey went outside, she rolled around in the yard.
Sticks and mud got tangled in Bailey's hair. The curls yelled, "Yucky!"

When Bailey came inside, she had a bath. When the curls got shampoo in their eyes, they cried, "Ahhh!"

After the bath, Bailey brushed her hair. The curls screamed, "Ouch!" Bailey's mom said, you need a haircut.

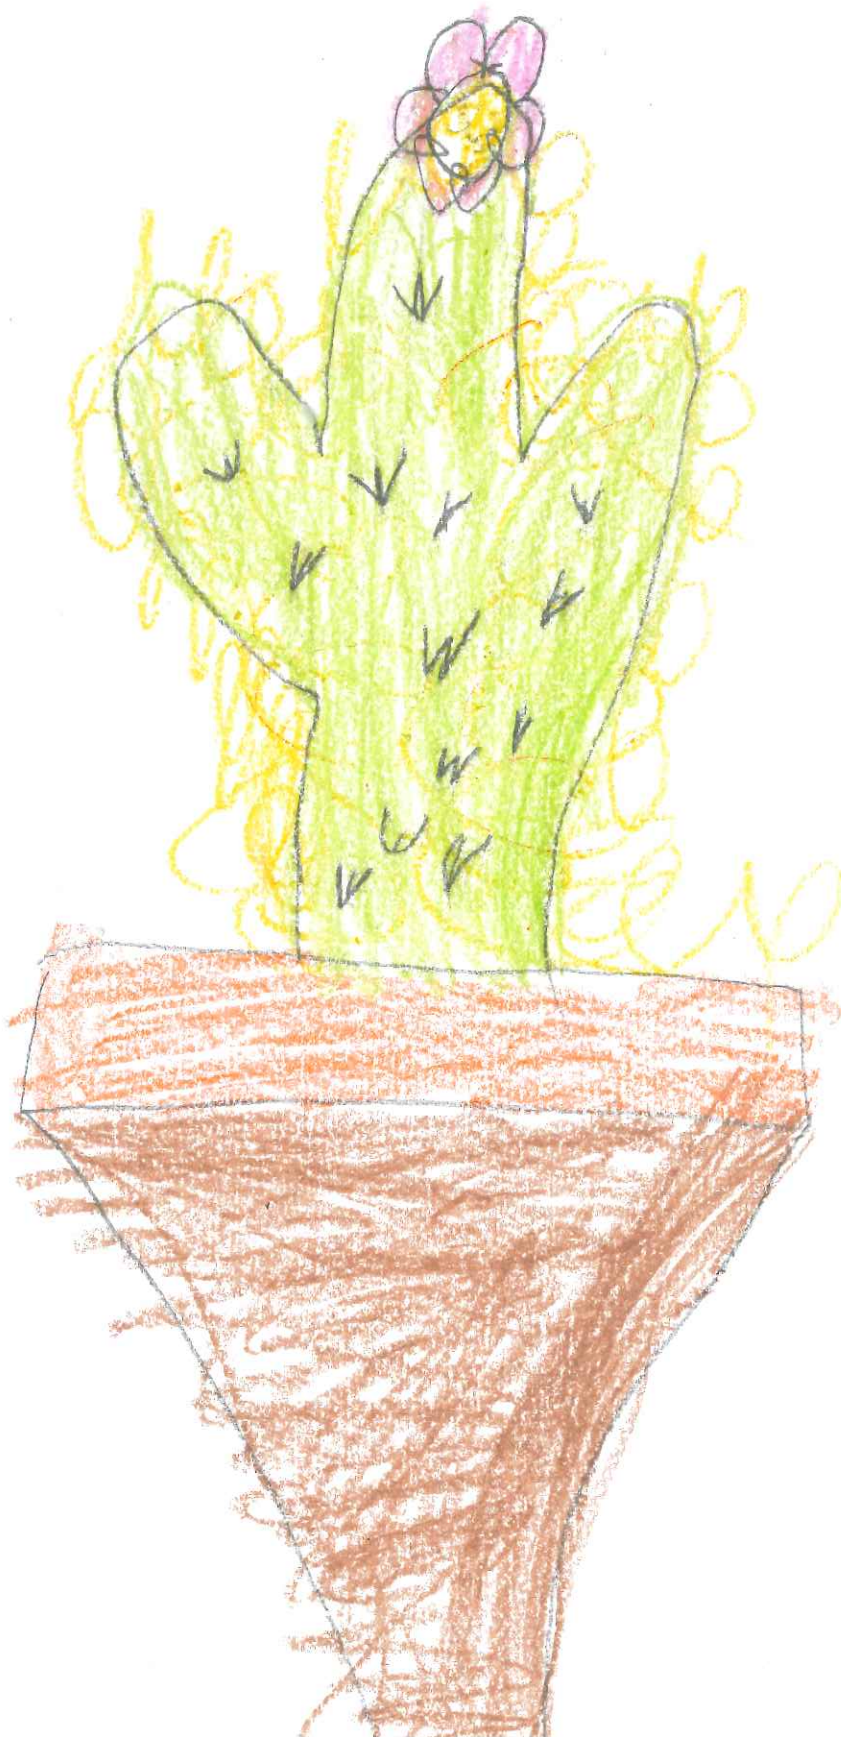

The curls decided to run away. When Bailey was asleep, the curls jumped off her head and went onto her dad's face and made a curly beard. When Bailey's dad awoke, he yelled, "I need to shave!"

The curls said, "Time to run!" Next, they jumped on Bailey's dog. The curls itched. The dog scratched the curls right off.

The curls said, "Time to run!" They jumped off the dog and jumped onto a plant.

When Bailey awoke and looked in the mirror, she saw no hair. She cried. The curls heard Bailey cry. They felt bad. They missed Bailey.

“Time to run!” The curls jumped on Bailey’s head. Bailey promised to never cut her hair and the curls decided to be tougher.
