

Our Vacation to Thailand

by Bella

One cold winter day, Layla and I were in the snow playing. My mom called, "Kids, it's dinner time," "I'll beat you to the porch! I yelled!" "No, you will not!" yelled Layla. "Mom, what's for dinner?" "Potato soup and grilled cheese sandwiches," she said.

"Can we go on vacation this summer?" I asked. "Let your father and I talk about it." I want to go to Thailand because I want to pet tigers and watch elephants play soccer.

"Well, girls, your dad and I talked about it last night. We are going to Thailand this summer."

"Yay!" yelled both of us. We danced. Time flew by fast.

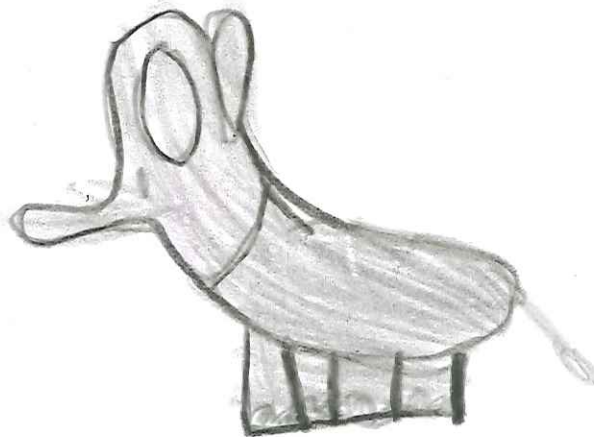

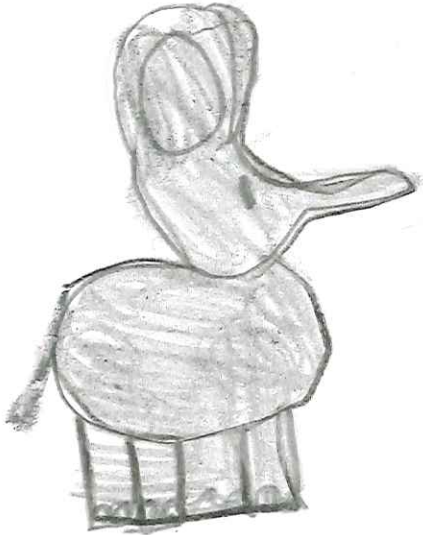

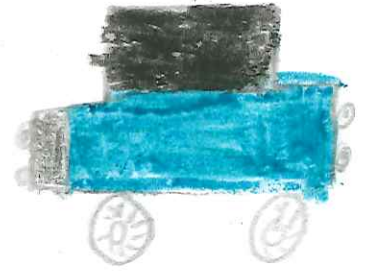

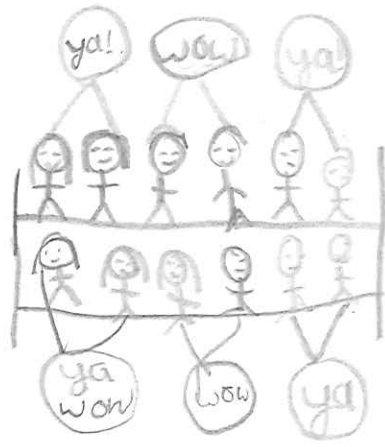

It was my ninth birthday, the family packed and headed to the airport. I was really excited about going to Thailand. Dad looked at the time and said, "We are almost there.!" "Thailand, here we come!" The plane landed. We rented a brown jeep to use as our vehicle to travel to different places in Thailand while we were there.

We spent two weeks in Thailand .

First we saw the wild elephants. We were told to be careful around them because they could be vicious. While we were driving, a wild elephant was crossing the road. We stopped because he was in the middle of the road. My Dad honked the horn. The elephant turned and looked at us and then he charged and sat on the hood of the jeep. We were scared, but it was really funny. The elephant destroyed the car. We had to walk to town to get another rental car.

When we entered the town, everyone was cheering. We walked over to see what they were cheering about. There were elephants playing soccer. There were referees directing the elephants so they wouldn't hurt anybody.

We went to a zoo. We were able to pet white tigers! We saw lots of birds and other animals.

Then we were able to ride the elephants.

We enjoyed Thailand. It was a memorable vacation.
