Aliens Don't Know

by

Two aliens were out for a ride in the universe.
One joked, "Is that planet Earth?"

"Ha, Ha!" Another said, "Yeah, right, it's not real, neither are humans."
Aliens didn't believe in humans.

But when they landed on that planet they saw two things walking.
"Are those the scary humans?"

"Ha, ha. No. This must be a hoax! These must be aliens in human costumes."

They flew over to them and the human-looking things froze and stared.

The aliens laughed and pulled on their hair to take off their costumes – but the hair wouldn't come off. The humans screamed, "Hey!"

That was when the aliens knew they were wrong.
"Humans are real!" The aliens ran away.
And the humans lost their minds, "Oh no! Aliens are real!"

"Wait, I need to get a picture of them! Or no one will believe me."

So they chased the aliens and the aliens said, "I'm so sorry."
The humans said, "It's ok. You didn't know."

Then they pulled out a disco ball and had a dance party together.

The End
