HOW I KNOW I WAS A DINOSAUR IN A PAST LIFE...

Written and Illustrated by Zoe [REDACTED]

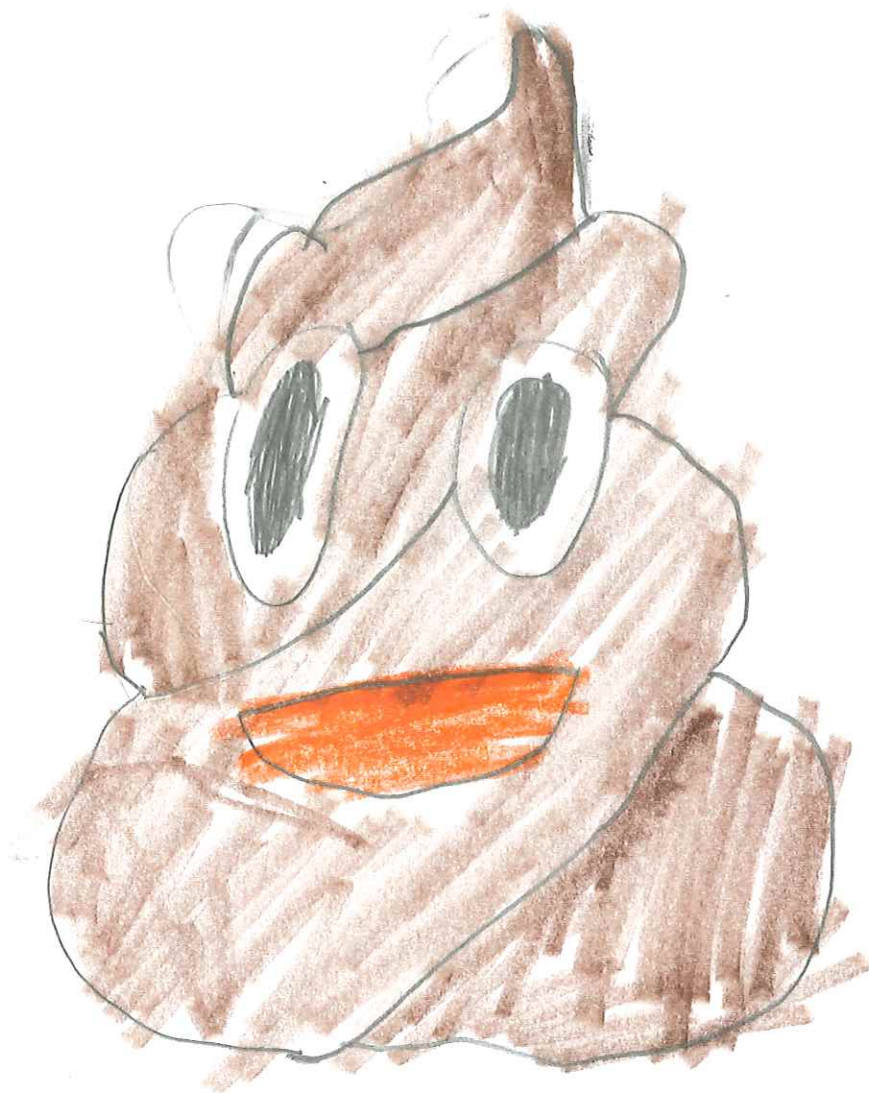

happened 2 days ago / then 1 / today

I rough house with my sister too much. Sometimes my sister gets hurt, but it's an accident. Dinosaurs do 'dino-play' to practice hunting, so that is probably why.

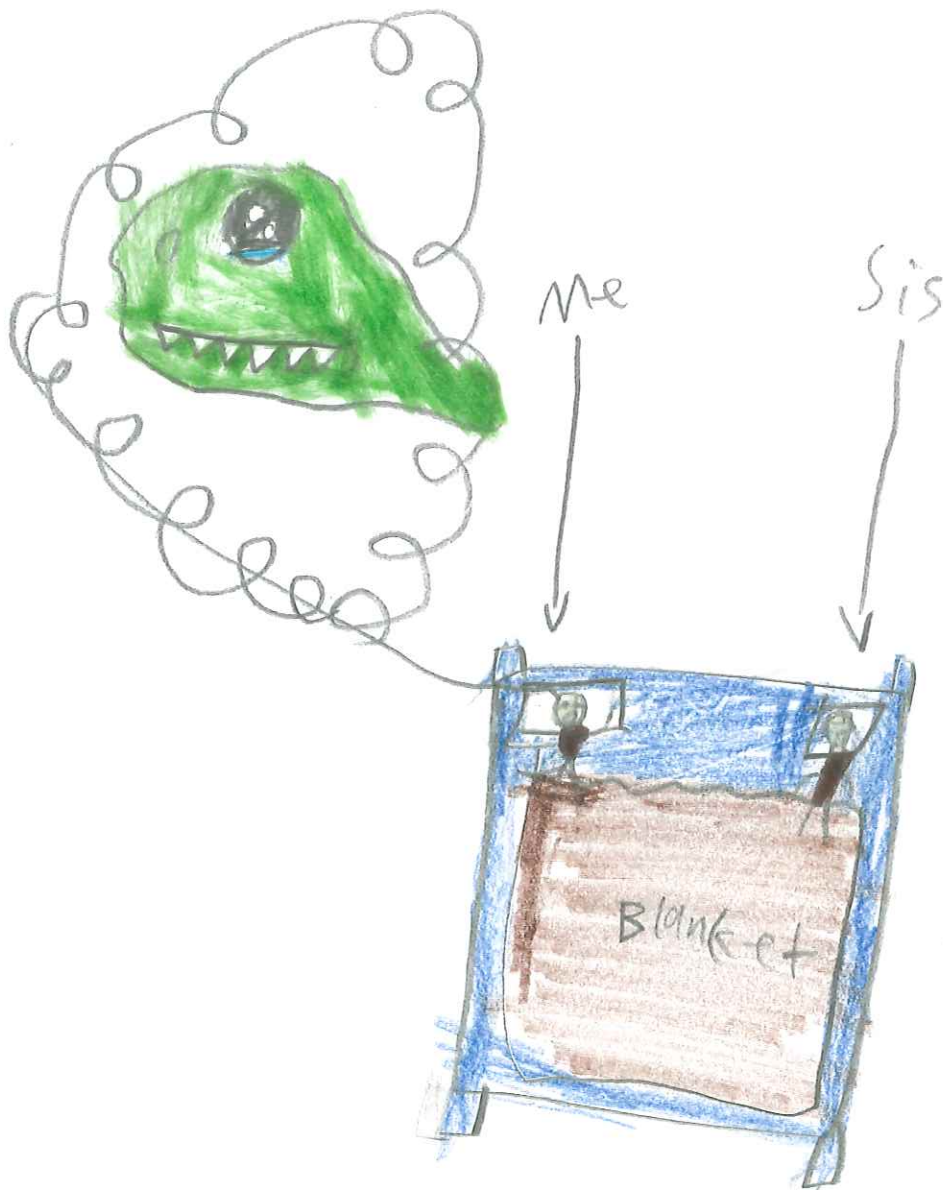

I am really tall for my age. I may have been a Sauropod. They were really tall with long necks, and long tails.

I have giant poops. Brontosaurus' poop was nearly a foot and a half long!

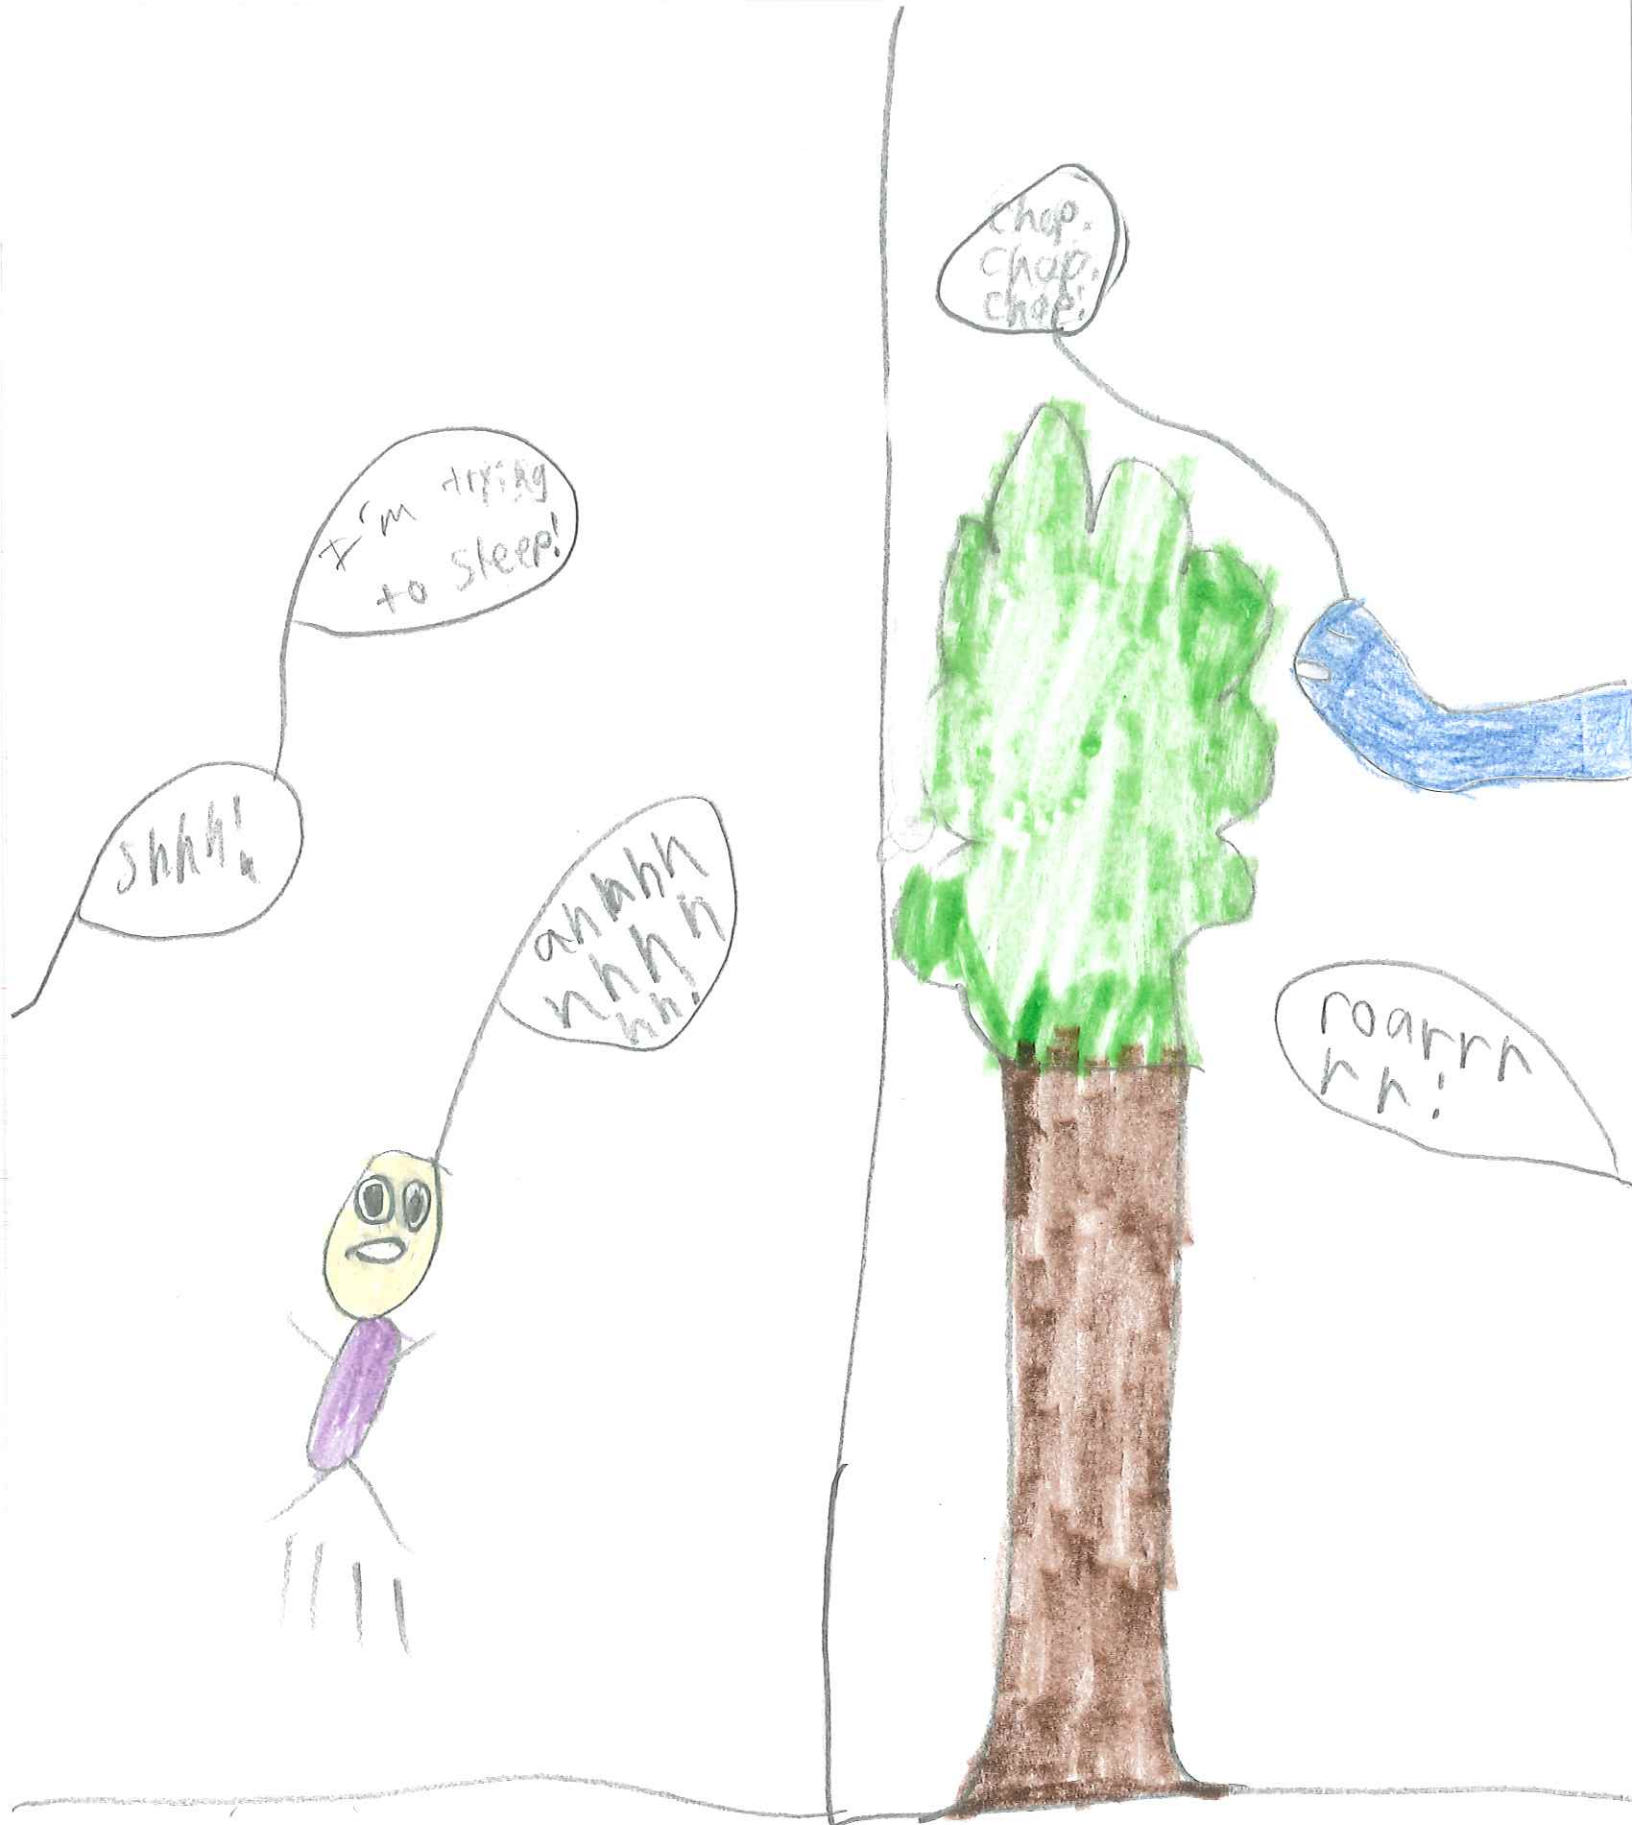

I love all insects. When they crawl on me, it doesn't bother me. Dinosaurs probably had the same feeling because they had insects crawling on them all the time.

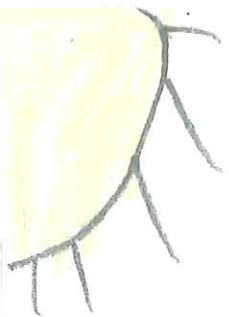

I dream a lot about dinosaurs. I dream I am hunting for prey, running, and eating. These dreams are probably memories.

Did you know dinosaurs grew new teeth all the time? Some dinosaurs grew a new tooth every 35 days! So far, every time I have lost a tooth, a new one has appeared! Also, I have two REALLY sharp teeth.

When I play, I am very loud. My mom tells me to 'take it down a notch.' It's hard because in my past life as a dinosaur, I roared all the time and no one had a problem with it.

are you
a roaring reader?

Roar

h h h

see
you
later,
dino-
gater!

These are most of the reasons I know I was a dinosaur in a past life. The main reason though is... because I really, really, REALLY, love dinosaurs!
