Scheduling is flexible up to 19.5 hours per week.

Idaho Public Television has an exciting opportunity for a Digital Streaming Production Specialist to perform and monitor live stream sessions and meetings of the Idaho State Legislature (during and outside of the annual Legislative Session schedules) and the Idaho Supreme Court.

This is a part-time, non-benefited position and will be limited to 1,385 hours per year. There will be a few weeks throughout the year in which hours worked may be up to 40 or more based on the schedule of events. Most work weeks will be limited to 19.5 hours or less.

EXAMPLE OF DUTIES:

Responsibilities Include:

- Confirm proper operational functioning of equipment and systems before, during, and after all live and recorded broadcasts at the State Capitol remote studio.
- Recording, archiving, and uploading audio and video of all meetings during Idaho legislative, Supreme Court sessions, and other special events as assigned.
- Monitor incoming and outgoing broadcast signals from the State Capitol and make corrections when necessary to ensure proper broadcast quality is always achieved.
- Make critical adjustments required to ensure continued content delivery via live streaming.
- Perform network services as needed.
- Maintain files; archive media files and recordings.
- Test and monitor multiple computers and video streams and be proactive in preventing problems.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS:

Minimum Qualifications:

- Comfortable learning and adapting to new technology.
- Attention to detail and remaining calm under pressure.
- Ability to work independently and with a team.
- Reliable attendance and punctuality.

Preferred Qualifications (but not required):

- Knowledge of satellite and internet feeds into non-linear editing system.
- Experience using remote cameras and control units.

The Ideal Candidate Will Have:

- Experience with file servers.
- Experience using graphics software such as Photoshop.
- Experience with file transcoding and encoding techniques.

Familiarity with Idaho Public Television and PBS programming.

SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION:

Supplemental Information:

This is a part-time, non-benefited position and will be limited to 1,385 hours per year. Training will be provided on-the-job.

It is the policy of Idaho Public Television to create an environment that supports diversity in all aspects of employment and in the daily operation of the enterprise. This diversity policy also carries over to the communities we serve through programming, community outreach, and our involvement in local and national organizations that promote diversity and inclusion.
