It was a normal day in Catville, when all of a sudden, all the clocks stopped. When they started, then stopped over and over again. All the cats thought this was odd and wanted someone to get to the bottom of the problem. Mayor Cat said he knew just the right cat for the job, Super Cat! And Super Cat knew just where to look, the Catville clock tower, which controlled the towns clocks.

When Super Cat got to the tower
he saw Villan Cat holding the clocks hands. "What are you doing, take your paws off time Villan Cat!"

Super Cat said.
"Ha Ha! you are too late Super Cat!
Nothing can stop me from my evil plan."
Villan Cat said.

Super Cat grabbed his trusted laser pointer, and pointed it up at the tower. Oh, no! you know I can't resist that little red light Super Cat! Villan Cat said "I know!" Super Cat said.

Super Cat started moving the light back and forth off the tower and onto the ground. Villan Cat chased the light with all his might. Super Cat lead the light right into Catville jail, with Villan Cat right behind it! After capturing Villan Cat, all the clocks in Catville were fixed.

Let me out of here!

"Thank you Super Cat" said the cats of Catville.

"You are welcome!" Super Cat said.

Mayor Cat threw a giant celebration and everyone ate tacos and pizza and had the best time ever!

The End
