CELEBRATING 25 YEARS OF BREAKTHROUGH CANCER CARE

OUR PATIENTS ARE THE WHY

BEHIND EVERYTHING WE DO

Powered by Washington University physicians and BJC HealthCare, Siteman Cancer Center has touched the lives of millions of cancer patients and their families.

Through revolutionary research and clinical trials, innovative treatments, and personalized care, we're changing outcomes and changing lives.

We're rewriting the story of cancer.

Dear Friends,

The new year provides new opportunities for Nine PBS to create space for conversations and connections. And I'm excited to share new initiatives and programs to help bridge divides, build understanding, and celebrate our region.

Our cover story is one new program I'm particularly excited about. St. Louis was part of The Great Migration of African Americans who moved from the American South to the north from the 1910s until the 1970s. Professor, historian, and filmmaker Henry Louis Gates Jr. brings light to the subject in the new docuseries, The Great Migration: A People on the Move. Download the PBS app to stream this series on your own schedule.

We also have many new Nine PBS original digital series debuting or continuing with new episodes in the next few months: Donnybrook Last Call, Humans of St. Louis, Nine PBS Reports, and What Do I Do with This? Read all about these new hyperlocal series on page 4. You can find them all by subscribing to our YouTube channel or watching on ninepbs.org.

Thanks to supporters like you, Nine PBS ranked number one in 2024 among public television stations nationwide, with the highest percentage of households watching. This is a testament to the trust you place in us.

Our values remain grounded in what they were when we were founded 70 years ago: community, trust, equity, and learning.

On behalf of our team, I look forward to connecting with you throughout 2025. Thank you for your continued support.

Best,

Amy Shaw

President and CEO

The national broadcast is scheduled for March 31.

Attendees of Nine PBS's Fall Edcamp in October sought ways to advance outcomes for our most under-resourced learners while learning how Nine PBS KIDS resources can help prepare kids for success in school.

Donnybrook Last Call

After the Donnybrook broadcast is over, check out Donnybrook Last Call. The panelists discuss a few additional topics that weren't included in the show.

Humans of St. Louis

Find new episodes of our collaboration, Humans of St. Louis x Nine PBS, on the Nine PBS YouTube channel. The first two stories (the family behind El Chico Bakery and Cesar Cardo, the owner of Club Viva) were released in late 2024.

Nine PBS Reports

We launched the first story in our new digital-first Nine PBS Reports series in October 2024, which told the story of how Amendment 3 landed on the Missouri ballot in November. We will be exploring ongoing challenges in St. Louis Public Schools in a new edition, beginning with a focus on the district's transportation issues.

What Do I Do with This?

In our world of rapid consumerism, decluttering household items often leaves individuals wondering what to do with all their stuff. In this digital video series, Nine PBS Managing Producer Brooke Butler raises awareness and understanding of how improperly discarded household items can impact the environment and empowers viewers with practical techniques.

Supported in part by Cass Information Systems, Inc. and the Graybar Foundation.

Better in St. Louis

Nine PBS partnered with Greater St. Louis, Inc. and St. Louis Magazine to host Better in St. Louis, conversations with people who have moved or returned to St. Louis and made it their home. Our collaboration with St. Louis Magazine continues in February with The People's Agenda, questions from the community directed to the candidates in the April St. Louis mayoral election.

The Promised Land?

🕒 Tuesdays, beginning January 28, 8 pm, and streaming on the PBS app. Each episode will be available to stream on the free PBS app for 30 days after broadcast before moving into Passport.

Great Migrations: A People on the Move examines how voluntary migrations in the 20th and 21st centuries have significantly shaped the fabric of our biggest cities, our industries, our music, our food, our politics, and so much more.

The four-part docuseries from Emmy-nominated executive producer, host, and writer Dr. Henry Louis Gates Jr. explores the first and second waves of the Great Migration from the South to the North during the two World Wars.

According to the National Archives, approximately six million Black people moved from the American South to Northern, Midwestern (including St. Louis), and Western states from about the 1910s until the 1970s in search of jobs and other opportunities.

The series attempts to answer questions, like: What political or economic pressures inspire people to move? Is it more often inspired by hope or fear? Is there even such a thing as a promised land?

Migration is not unique to any single ethnicity or group, but it is a deeply profound aspect of the modern African American experience simply because Black people were denied movement for so long. Theirs was a forced migration from Africa, followed by centuries of enslavement that kept them in place. In being denied movement, they were denied their humanity.

The epic migration of people began in the late 19th century when it was clear that the early promises of Reconstruction would not be fulfilled and accelerated as the new century progressed. Underlying this courageous act was the abiding belief in American opportunity, as well as a belief in their own capacity to better their lives, and the lives of their children.

The series includes notable figures including political leader Stacey Abrams, artist George F. Baker III, journalist Charles Blow, and more.

"The Great Migration was not just a seismic historical event; it's an ongoing story," says Gates. "Our series focuses on three dramatic migrations that have profoundly shaped the African American experience, and redefined what it means to be 'Black' in this country: the great migration from the Deep South to the North and West, the reverse migration back to the South, and most recently the astonishing large migration of Africans and West Indians to this country in recent decades."

New Season of Finding Your Roots

Season 11 of Finding Your Roots premieres Tuesday, January 7 at 7 pm. Nineteen celebrity guests will sit down with Dr. Henry Louis Gates Jr. to dive into their ancestral history. In addition to the all-star line-up, Gates will have his own familial mystery solved when the host becomes the guest. Each episode of this new season will be available to stream on the PBS app for 30 days before moving into PBS Passport.
