Brooke J. Butler

Producer

How long have you worked for Nine PBS?

I started at Nine PBS as a production support intern in 2018 and I have been here ever since.

Briefly, what is your responsibility?

As a producer, my main responsibility is to tell compelling stories about our community for our flagship program, Living St. Louis.

What show(s) on Nine PBS are you watching or recommending?

I have been enthralled by the powerful Ken Burns series, The U.S. and the Holocaust. And, of course, I'm an avid viewer of Living St. Louis.

What do you enjoy doing when you're not at work?

As an enthusiastic "park person," I'm a frequent visitor to Tower Grove Park, home of the greatest farmer's market, in my biased opinion. I also enjoy sharing my hobbies of gardening, music, and film with my daughter, who fancies herself a ballerina.

Dear Friends,

It's hard to believe that we're coming close to the end of the year! These last couple of years have been strange, for sure. I often hear from many of you that you appreciate and trust Nine PBS for the context we provide on the past, our lens on the here and now, and the hopeful look at our collective futures.

At Nine PBS, 2022 has been about focusing our energies to magnify and deepen understanding of our community and tell authentic stories about our region's struggles and successes.

I'm especially excited about our promising, new, local Drawn In initiative, which is about ensuring all children can read and see themselves in our content. Thousands of comic books have been distributed to children and families through the St. Louis American this fall, and we have hosted Drawn In literacy events to engage families in playful learning by using its vibrant characters and storylines. The next exciting step is the animated content that will roll out soon.

In addition to local stories and our work to help our community flourish, we ensure our joyful and inspiring content is easily accessible. I hope that you have downloaded the PBS Video App, so you don't miss any episode, special, or series and joined Nine PBS as a member to receive extended access to these programs through Nine PBS Passport. You can find Nine PBS wherever you are!

Thank you for believing in our purpose and supporting our future. Best wishes for a happy holiday season filled with joy.

Veteran's Story Exemplifies St. Louis's Work Ethic

The film includes interviews with members of the Taylor family, historians, World War II aviation experts, pilots, and longtime Enterprise employees.

Jack Taylor: The Enterprise*, narrated by Gary Sinise, tells the incredible story of a World War II veteran who used the lessons he took home from war to establish one of America's most successful post-war companies.

The new film about St. Louis businessman and billionaire Jack Crawford Taylor premieres November 1.

Jack Taylor was born in St. Louis in 1922. Jack heeded his country's call after the attack on Pearl Harbor drew the United States into World War II. In 1942, he enlisted and served as a decorated Navy Hellcat pilot in the skies over the South Pacific.

After the war, like so many others of the "Greatest Generation," he returned home to raise his family and start a business. Jack cherished the values he learned in the Navy, including integrity, hard work, team spirit, and doing the right thing; he credits them for his success.

They also made their mark on the company he founded in 1957, Enterprise Rent-a-Car. He named his new business after the aircraft carrier he served on, the most decorated U.S. Naval vessel in WWII: the USS Enterprise.

"After landing a Hellcat on the pitching deck of a carrier, watching enemy tracer bullets stream past the canopy, somehow the risk of starting up my own company didn't seem all that big a deal," he is quoted as saying.

St. Louis has always had an entrepreneurial spirit. The metro area is home to 14 of the Fortune 1000 companies (eight of which are in the Fortune 500), along with eight of the largest private holding companies (including U.S. Enterprise Holdings). The car rental services company is headquartered in Clayton, MO.

"I have always been interested in how veterans returned to civilian life following the world's most horrific and heroic conflict and how they handled coming home," says Tim Gray, producer, director, and writer of the film and president and founder of The World War II Foundation.

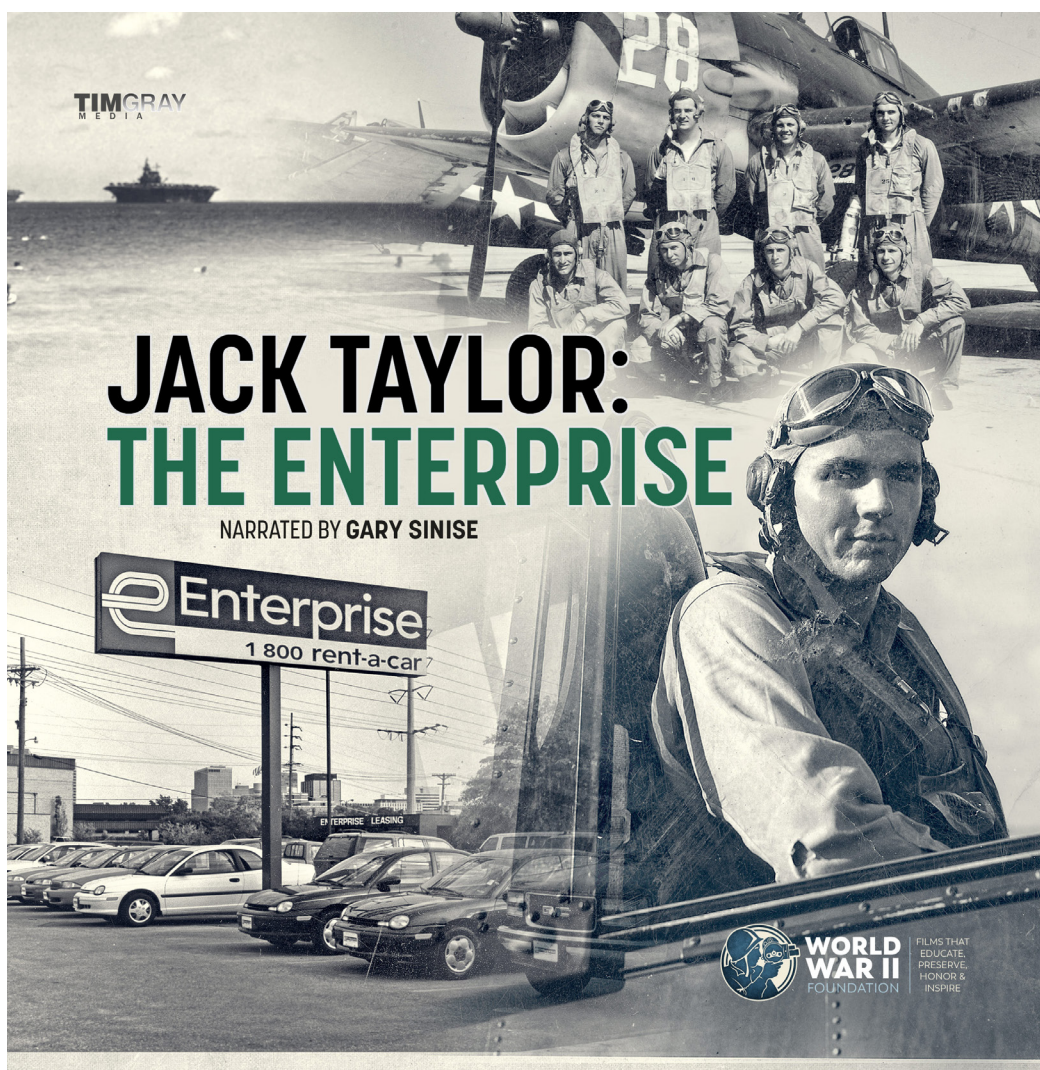

"Some failed, some lost focus, but many went on to do incredible things, mostly based on what they learned in the military, the trust they developed with their fellow soldiers, sailors, airmen, and Marines, and because they also knew if they could handle war, they could handle adversity or challenges that came their way."

Jack's work ethic is on full display in the film as we see him move from a young boy in St. Louis during the Depression to his return home from the war, and the founding of his business. Jack and Enterprise are legendary for their philanthropy, too. When he died in 2016, he left a legacy throughout St. Louis. The most recent example is the new $100 million Jack C. Taylor Visitor Center at the Missouri Botanical Garden that opened in August 2022.

The film includes interviews with members of the Taylor family, historians, World War II aviation experts, pilots, and longtime Enterprise employees. The filmmaker was fortunate to have access to all the interviews Jack had done thanks to the chief archivist at Enterprise.

"It's really the first film we have ever made that shows how World War II shaped the life of someone who went into the fight with maybe not all the answers but came out with the training and traits to be hugely successful," says Gray.

📺 Watch Jack Taylor: The Enterprise live Tuesday, November 1, at 8 pm on Nine PBS or stream live or anytime on the PBS Video App.

Nine PBS has scheduled multiple programs about the veteran experiences in November to commemorate Veterans Day on November 11. Watch for an upcoming episode of Living St. Louis that covers the biography of Jack C. Taylor. Watch live or stream these programs on the PBS Video App anytime.

GIVING TUESDAY

November 29, 2022

Give at ninepbs.org/GivingTuesday

Let PBS KIDS children's programming and our early learning work in the community motivate your gift. Or maybe it's our journalism that provides context or the dramas on Masterpiece that play into your decision to give—that's great, too!

A contribution on Giving Tuesday will help Nine PBS provide all this great content and more. Not to mention, you'll help fund local programs we produce especially for our region.

Lambay's Digital Cooking Series Debuts

St. Louisan Adam Lambay was the grand prize winner of Create Cooking Challenge: My Family's Recipe from Nine PBS Create.

Adam Lambay's digital series celebrating Indian cuisine on CreateTV.com launched in mid-October. A native of St. Louis, his career has been dedicated to culinary arts. Today, he is executive chef at the Hilton St. Louis at the Ballpark, with a storied resume of positions at high-end restaurants throughout the metro region.

Adam's family has lived in the St. Louis community for more than 50 years. His father's family emigrated from Mumbai, India. His mother is the granddaughter of first-generation German immigrants. His great-grandparents arrived in St. Louis between World Wars I and II and operated a successful bakery in downtown St. Louis. He is married and has two children.

Public television played a major role in his desire to become a chef; he credits Julia Child and Martin Yan of Yan Can Cook! as influencers. His digital series will focus on "Indian-inspired" recipes, but they won't be overly "hot," he says. Instead, they will make use of spices and aromatics to make the dishes more accessible to the average home cook.

➤ To watch the 10-episode series, go to createtv.com/originals. New episodes debut every Monday and Thursday until the final episode on Thursday, November 17.

Nine PBS Team Lands Six Emmy Nominations

The Nine PBS team produced outstanding television last year and they were rewarded with six Mid-America Emmy® Award nominations for work produced in 2021.

"I am proud of our work at Nine PBS and especially excited for our Living St. Louis team, who have consistently told compelling, local stories that magnify and deepen understanding of our community, and each other, for almost 20 years," says Amy Shaw, president and CEO, Nine PBS.

Awards and Nominations for PBS

PBS was honored with six Peabody Awards this year. From documentaries to news, like the PBS NewsHour's January 6th reporting, PBS continues to present stories that matter. PBS also received six wins and 30 nominations in the 43rd News and Documentary Emmy Awards, including a Lifetime Achievement Award for PBS NewsHour anchor and managing editor, Judy Woodruff. Emmy wins were for Frontline: Yemen's COVID Cover-Up, Boeing's Fatal Flaw, A Thousand Cuts, and Un(re)solved; Nature: The Elephant and the Termite; and POV: Mayor.

Independent Lens Wins 27th Emmy Award

When Claude Got Shot by Brad Lichtenstein was given the honor for Exceptional Merit in Documentary Filmmaking at the 74th Creative Arts Emmy Awards in September. The film centers around whether after being shot in the face by a teenager, law student Claude can find it in himself to forgive his attacker?

➤ The film is available on Nine PBS Passport along with a collection of award-winning Independent Lens docs.

Celebratory Cooking Competition Gets Second Season

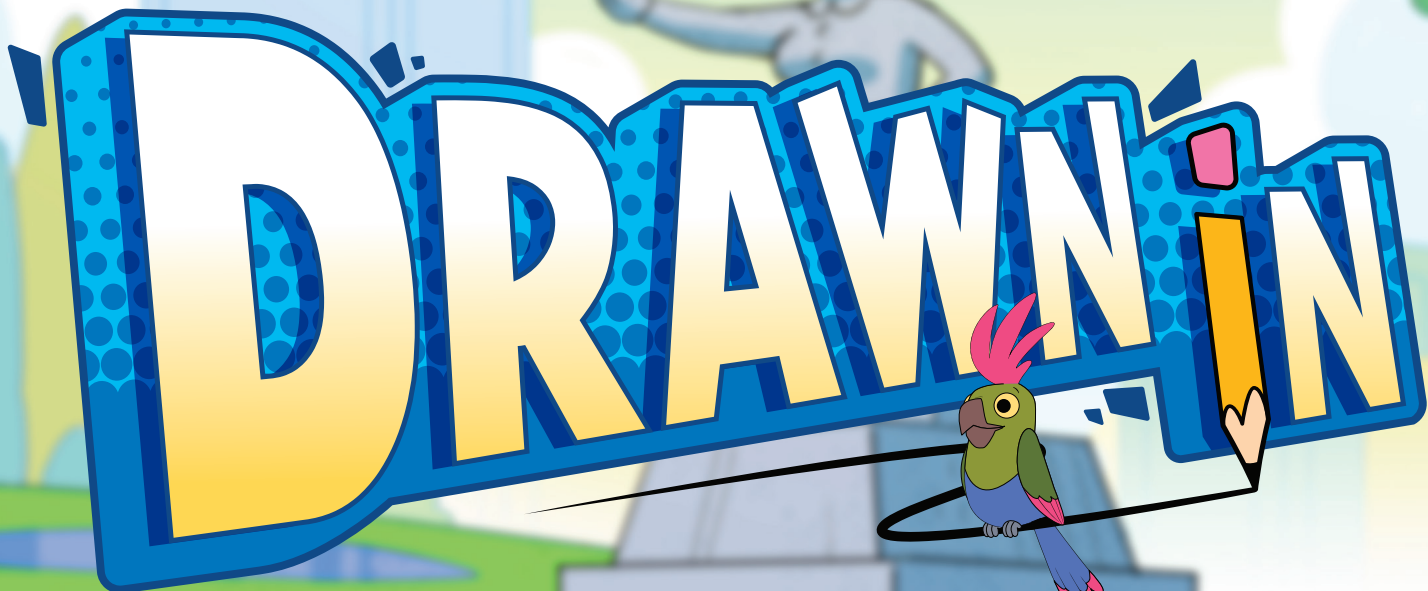

Silvia Martinez (pictured above), a California home cook who grew up making Mexican dishes she learned from her grandmother, aunts, and mother, was the winner of The Great American Recipe on the season finale in August.

Production of Season 2 of the uplifting cooking competition series that celebrates the multiculturalism that makes American food unique and iconic began this fall. The second season is set to premiere in the summer of 2023. Alejandra Ramos will once again host, and chefs and judges Leah Cohen, Tiffany Derry and Graham Elliot will return as judges.

➤ All episodes of Season 1 of The Great American Recipe are streaming on ninepbs.org and the PBS Video app.

DRAWNIN

WATCH. READ. PLAY. LEARN.

In the Community Recap: Power Hours

Nine PBS is dedicated to supporting summer learning to increase school readiness. Summer enrichment can help kids continue to deepen their learnings and make new academic gains to increase school readiness.

To help students practice school skills over the summer, Nine PBS hosted 74 Power Hours in our priority neighborhoods of North St. Louis City, North St. Louis County, and East St. Louis. The Power Hour series includes literacy, science, and financial literacy. Each session was an opportunity for children and their families to gather, share a meal, and learn together.

As of September 2022, these sessions have impacted 194 kids and 55 caregivers.

These superheroes in the making attended our Drawn In comic book writing workshop.

Literacy

Nine PBS Literacy Power Hours were focused on Drawn In, an integrated media experience including comics, video shorts, and a web experience. Nine PBS partnered with Harris-Stowe State University, Lewis and Clark St. Louis County Library branch, and EyeSeeMe Bookstore to host comic book writing workshops where children focused on expanding their vocabulary, creating comic books of their own, and sharing their creations with the group.

Science

Nine PBS had the opportunity to support families as they helped children practice scientific skills. Nine PBS met families at Beyond Housing, Harris-Stowe State University, and the Wesley House, as well as hosting a virtual cohort. The Science Power Hour curriculum, codeveloped with Washington University Institute for School Partnerships' STEMpact, included activities like building bird houses, a model garden, and musical instruments.

Financial Literacy

Nine PBS hosted children and their families to build confidence and competence in financial literacy. Meeting children and families at Christian Activity Center East St. Louis and virtually with a curriculum that included projects like a saving and spending budget, a penny bridge, and understanding needs and wants, the Power Hours created a lasting impact. A community partner noted, "Parents have been hearing their children talk endlessly about this program. The kids tell their parents...to come every week. Our attendance has spiked since we started this partnership."

Literacy sessions are supported by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, Regional Arts Commission, Steward Family Foundation, and Joseph and Sandra Lehrer; science sessions are supported by Boeing; and financial literacy sessions are supported by Bank of America.

"We started [school] today, and I feel she's so ready for it thanks to all the PBS Power Hours we've been doing."

—Parent and Literacy Power Hour participant

Doctor Zhivago

During the Russian Revolution, Yuri Zhivago (Omar Sharif) is a young doctor who has been raised by his aunt and uncle following his father's suicide. Yuri falls in love with beautiful Lara Guishar (Julie Christie), who has been having an affair with her mother's lover, Victor Komarovskiy (Rod Steiger), an unscrupulous businessman. Yuri ends up marrying his cousin, but when he and Lara meet again years later, the spark of love reignites.

American Experience: Taken Hostage

Unfolding like a political thriller, Taken Hostage is a riveting four-hour two-part documentary film about the Iran hostage crisis, when 52 American diplomats, Marines and civilians were taken hostage at the American Embassy in Tehran on November 4, 1979. The crisis would transform both the U.S. and Iran and forever upend the focus and direction of American foreign policy.

Channel 9.3 and Spectrum 185 | November
programming on Nine PBS World celebrates Native American Heritage Month.

Groundworks

While weaving together California Native artists' stories and their contemporary ways of sharing traditional knowledge, Groundworks also explores land management issues, water rights, and food security—concerns for all Americans, especially in an age of climate change.

Wednesday, November 2, 7 pm

The Horse Relative

This documentary explores the historic art of horse regalia and how the tradition is being revived and reinterpreted by Dakota communities for a new generation. Interviewees discuss the sacred relationship between the horse and the Dakota people, and the centuries-old tradition of dressing horses for ceremonies and celebrations.

Thursday, November 3, 6 pm

DON'T MISS

Searching for Sequoyah spans two countries and three Cherokee nations, leading viewers on a journey through the life and death of Sequoyah. You'll learn about Sequoyah through the written language he created for the Cherokee people, interviews with his descendants, and more.

Friday, November 4, 8 pm

All Creatures Great and Small: The Perfect Christmas

It's Christmas in Darrowby, and Helen and James realize they haven't agreed on where they're spending Christmas Day. When a beloved local pet is taken seriously ill, Siegfried must bring it into the practice for emergency treatment.

► Sunday, December 25, 7 pm

Bright Lights Little City

A celebration of one small Appalachian Mountain town that embraced creativity without reservation, found success in self-determination, and through five decades has pursued the joy of self-discovery and cultural diversity through the arts.

► Tuesday, December 27, 8:30 pm
