Multimedia Producer

How long have you worked for Nine PBS?

7 years.

Briefly, what is your responsibility?

Pretty much everything you see between on-air programs I have a hand on. Promoting our shows, events, and public engagement to the masses, as well as video editing.

What show(s) on Nine PBS are you watching or recommending?

I always enjoy watching a good Donnybrook and I've been recommending the new Living St. Louis to everybody I can.

What do you enjoy doing when you're not at work?

I enjoy exploring the city, hiking/camping, and playing video games like the competitive online racing game, Gran Turismo 7.

Dear Friends,

I'm thrilled to share that Nine PBS was recognized as a great place for women to work for the third consecutive year. We're one of only 21 organizations to receive this designation by Women's Foundation of Greater St. Louis (WFSTL) in its sixth annual Women in the Workplace: Employment Scorecard initiative. There is a certain pride in knowing that we are prioritizing equitable policies that enable women and our entire team to thrive.

Our 2022–2024 strategic plan is anchored by four priorities, with priority number one our people and culture. We want to be a great place to work, where we create great things in collaboration with our community.

Ensuring people belong is important at Nine PBS. PBS's audience mirrors the diversity of the U.S. with respect to race, ethnicity, income, and geography—and it is core to our mission that Nine PBS content reflects this diversity. PBS released its Annual Report on Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (FY22). Recognizing that there is still work to do, here are two key findings:

- More than half of PBS's primetime programming included diverse on-screen talent; was produced, written, or directed by diverse makers; and explored diversity-related topics.

- All PBS KIDS programming features characters with diverse backgrounds, experiences, and abilities.

We have a great lineup of diverse films in May to commemorate the Asian American and Pacific Islander experience: from video artist Nam June Paik on American Masters to Rising Against Asian Hate to the 1970s-era, all-female rock group Fanny, and a California donut shop owner.

Our cover feature celebrates the wonderful diversity of cuisines that immigrants bring to the U.S. Our region is no exception; we are fortunate to have a wealth of global dining options. Watch for a new season of Food Is Love coming soon.

I appreciate your continued support and I hope you uplift our community, including Nine PBS, by participating in Give STL Day on May 10.

Best,

Distinctive and Diverse American Cuisine

Lidia Bastianich shares stories of immigrants shaping what it means to be an American in Lidia Celebrates America: Flavors That Define Us, May 30.

As America grows more diverse than ever before, immigrants must figure out how much of their culture to keep and what to leave behind, and many are more openly sharing their heritage (including food) with a new country they now call home.

At the forefront of the cultural revolution in food is Lidia Matticchio Bastianich, beloved chef and Italian immigrant, Emmy Award-winning host, best-selling cookbook author, successful restaurateur, and owner of a flourishing food and entertainment business.

Lidia has published numerous cookbooks and companion books to her public television series Lidia's Kitchen (now in its 10th season), Lidia's Italy in America, and Lidia's Italy. Her most recent book is Lidia's A Pot, A Pan, and a Bowl.

A celebrated chef and restaurateur and a partner in Eataly, a chain of Italian marketplaces, she also has a line of artisanal pasta and all-natural sauces.

She is a member of Les Dames D'Escoffier and a founding member of Women Chefs and Restaurateurs, two nonprofit organizations of women leaders in the food and hospitality industries. She is also a champion for the United Nations Association of the United States of America's Adopt-a-Future program, in support of refugee education.

Among the numerous awards and accolades, Lidia has earned seven James Beard Awards (Outstanding Chef and Television Food Show, Best Chefs in America, Who's Who of Food and Beverage in America, and Specials) and two Emmy Awards for Outstanding Culinary Host.

- Ways to watch: Lidia's Kitchen airs Saturdays at 3 pm on Nine PBS; and at various times throughout the week on Nine PBS Create.

Primetime Special

In Lidia Celebrates America: Flavors That Define Us, she travels from big cities to small towns in rural America to share the inspiring stories of first, second, and third-generation Americans forging their own way, and shaping the shifting definition of what it means to be an American.

- Ways to watch: May 30, 8 pm, on Nine PBS

Create Marathon

Spend Mother's Day weekend with Lidia as she puts on a culinary master class in creating delicious Italian meals for the entire family, including breakfast risotto, cheesy stuffed veal chops, grape ricotta pizza, sausages with fennel and olives, mushroom gratinate, and more!

- Ways to watch: May 12–18 on Nine PBS Create. May 12, beginning at 9 pm; May 13, beginning at 9 am; May 14, beginning at 11 am; May 15-18, beginning at 8 pm.

The host of The Great American Recipe Alejandra Ramos (far right) and judges and mentors (from left) Leah Cohen, Graham Elliot, and Tiffany Derry return for Season 2.

The Great American Recipe Is Back for Season 2

At a time when America is divided, this series about food and family brought people together around the table.

Viewers rooted for and connected with home cooks from around the country during the premiere season of The Great American Recipe. It was so successful that a new season of this fan-favorite series was ordered with fresh faces, new recipes, and heartwarming stories. The show is filmed in Virginia.

This fun and uplifting eight-part cooking competition celebrates the multiculturalism that makes American food unique and iconic. Season 2 introduces you to a new group of inventive home cooks who compete to wow the judges with their beloved signature dishes. Alejandra Ramos returns as host and renowned chefs Leah Cohen, Tiffany Derry, and Graham Elliot are back as judges and mentors.

The Great American Recipe highlights the amazing variety of tastes and traditions from across the U.S. while capturing the roots of America's diverse cuisine. From family favorites passed down through generations to internationally influenced recipes that are becoming mainstays of American cuisine, the series mixes camaraderie with competition, revealing rich personal stories and the inspiration behind the contestants' favorite recipes.

In Season 1, the culinary legacies of cooks from the Midwest to Mexico were showcased. In the new season, cooks traveled from all over the country to share their stories and most treasured recipes, from Native American bison short ribs to Hawaiian loco moco and Guyanese chicken curry.

The Great American Recipe Cookbook, the official series companion book which features recipes from the contestants, the host, and the judges, can be found at shop.pbs.org and wherever books are sold.

- Way to watch: Season 2 premieres June 19 on Nine PBS and on the PBS App. Season 1 is available via Nine PBS Passport. Learn how to activate your Passport account at ninepbs.org/passport/faq.

Living St. Louis's 314 Day Watch Party Is a Rollicking Success

On 314 Day Eve (March 13), we hosted a collaborative celebration of 314 Day and Living St. Louis's 20th anniversary. Influencers from around the area were treated to food from Salt + Smoke, a Facebook Live taping with LSL producers, Nine PBS and 314 Day swag, and Living St. Louis's 314 Day special.

Now in its 20th season, Living St. Louis has captured the stories of the people, places, and organizations that make our region consequential and complex. The show, which has produced more than 600 episodes and won more than 30 Emmy Awards, is the flagship content brand for Nine PBS local storytelling.

You can find Living St. Louis content on Facebook, YouTube, ninepbs.org, the PBS App, and TikTok. You can watch the special 314 Day episode at ninepbs.org/lsl.

BBC Coverage of King Charles III's Coronation

Nine PBS will air events surrounding and leading up to the coronation of Charles III at Westminster Abbey in London on Saturday, May 6. Using the BBC's outstanding coverage, a primetime special will air the evening of May 6. As of press time, the broadcast was expected to start at 1:30 am and last approximately seven hours. Consult ninepbs.org for final details.

During the symbolic religious ceremony, the King will be crowned alongside Camilla, the Queen Consort.

In February, the BBC reported that the King Charles coronation logo (above) was created by iPhone designer Sir Jony Ive. "The design was inspired by King Charles's love of the planet, nature, and his deep concern for the natural world," said Ive.

The Impact of Drawn In

This animated kids' series brings you the epic adventures of four comic book-loving kids. Drawn In celebrates underrepresented audiences with content designed to help close the well-documented literacy gap.

Drawn In is anchored to the community; we regularly convene with more than 40 trusted partners in early education. These conversations are an opportunity to understand community priorities, develop programming and curriculum tied to these priorities, engage the broader community, and, later, measure the impact of our efforts to inform future content, engagement, and dialogue.

Rising Against Asian Hate: One Day in March

In March 2021, six women of Asian descent were murdered in Atlanta, GA. The shooting was a watershed moment in a year of increasing violence against Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders (AAPI). The documentary examines those tragic events as they became a galvanizing moment, reigniting a sense of collective identity and political engagement within AAPI communities.

Great Performances: Richard III

This bold new production stars Danai Gurira in the title role. One of Shakespeare's most indelible villains, Richard is determined to be king, using his brilliant words and dark charm to conceal his dismantling of government and justice to satisfy his lust for power. This drama explores the muddy middle between political genius and a violent quest for power.

Fanny: The Right to Rock

Cofounded by Filipina Americans and queer teenagers, Fanny is the first all women band to release an album with a major record label (Warner/Reprise, 1970). Revered by David Bowie, meet the most groundbreaking rock group you've never heard of...until now.

America ReFramed: Jaddoland

Jaddoland offers a fresh look at the immigrant story in America: how art can help both the creator and the audience make sense of familial and cultural connections, loss, perseverance, and life.

Thursday, May 4, 7 pm

America ReFramed: Blurring the Color Line

Crystal Kwok unpacks the history behind her grandmother's family, who were neighborhood grocery store owners in the Black community of Augusta, GA, during the Jim Crow era. By centering women's experiences, Kwok poses critical questions around the intersections of anti-Black racism, white power, and Chinese patriarchy in the American South.

A Murder in Montrose: The Paul Broussard Legacy

Twenty-five years ago, Paul Broussard, a 27-year-old gay man, was murdered on the streets of Houston, sparking a deafening outcry. The crime served as a wake-up call that highlighted the harassment and mistreatment experienced by the LGBTQ community. Houston Public Media explores the aftermath of this pivotal event: from civil unrest to hate crime legislation and victim's rights to political activism.

"PROM Magazine: Where did you go to high school?"

April 10-January 7, 2024

Central Library

"PROM Magazine: Where did you go to high school?" will highlight St. Louis Public Library's extensive collection of PROM Magazine. Published from 1947-1973, PROM Magazine was produced "exclusively for the youth of Greater St. Louis" and represented all the high schools - public and private - of the area.

The exhibit is FREE and open to the public.

OTSL

The king of ragtime celebrates his queen.
