Report to the Community

DEAR FRIENDS,

On September 20, 1954, the visionary founders of Nine PBS flipped the switch that put us on the air. Our history is a magnificent example of what happens when a committed group of people come together around a common goal. These leaders had a vision for using the new medium of television to teach and engage learners in our region. I think we've succeeded beyond their wildest dreams.

In the fall of 2022, in a collaborative effort with our board, staff, and community members, we launched an ambitious three-year strategic plan anchored by four key values: community, trust, equity, and learning. We kept our core purpose simple: to help our region flourish.

To that end, Nine PBS programs reflect and celebrate the diversity of our region. Our inclusion of all voices is just one reason we are respected. We listen to our community; we focus our work on what matters to the people who live in our community. The community is responding: Throughout 2022, Nine PBS ranked number one among public television stations nationwide with the highest percentage of households watching.

During the pandemic, we were called on by local educators to provide learning resources, so we launched the region's largest classroom, Teaching in Room 9. Led by educators, the series continues with a focus on increasing kindergarten readiness so that all kids can thrive.

In late 2022, in partnership with St. Louis-based, Academy Award-winning Lion Forge Animation, we launched Drawn In, a brand-new literacy initiative that includes an animated series, comic books, digital education resources, and live learning events.

Drawn In was designed to address educational objectives in English and language arts for 6–8-year-old kids, using comics to create a bridge between learning to read and reading to learn. Black and brown kids will see themselves positively represented in every story from Drawn In through the diverse ethnicities of the characters, their socio-economic circumstances, and different life experiences.

Thank you for being a part of our storied history, which continues to grow in relevance and impact. I think our story has just begun.

Best,

COMMUNITY EVENTS

We brought the community together for numerous, free, live events to watch, learn, share, and discuss culture, history, the arts, literacy, and current events.

HEAD OVER HEELS: REMEMBERING WRESTLING AT THE CHASE

A live screening on the Public Media Commons in June brought out nostalgia lovers and fans of wrestling for the story of one of St. Louis's most popular and longest-running local programs, KPLR-TV's Wrestling at the Chase.

TASTEMAKERS: WINEMAKING IN MISSOURI

In September, wine aficionados gathered to screen tasteMAKERS: Winemaking in Missouri: A Well-Cultivated History from Emmy-winning producer and host Catherine Neville, which included a bevy of local food purveyors and, of course, Missouri wines.

DRAWN IN CELEBRATION

In November, we celebrated with everyone who had a hand in the making of Drawn In, a kids' literacy initiative from Nine PBS and Lion Forge Animation. Attendees got to watch video shorts, meet the cast and creative artists, mingle, and enjoy local cuisine.

STORYTIME IN THE COMMONS

Nine PBS welcomed the chance to revive a community favorite in 2022: Storytime in the Commons. On September 24, 500-plus community members gathered to celebrate Be My Neighbor Day. Children and families met characters from Daniel Tiger's Neighborhood, participated in multicultural activities, like necklace making and a drum circle, and experienced the joy of storytelling.

On October 22, 500-plus community members once again gathered in the Jack Galmiche Public Media Commons for Storytime in the Commons, this time to celebrate Nine PBS's own Drawn In. The community enjoyed hearing the voice actors of Drawn In read an edition of the comic, meeting the actors for autographs, and watching the first video short.

September Storytime was supported by PNC Grow Up Great® and Fred Rogers Productions. October Storytime was supported by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting with additional support from the Regional Arts Commission of St. Louis. Major support for Drawn In's associated community engagement work comes from the Steward Family Foundation. Additional community engagement support comes from Joseph and Sandra Lehrer in memory of Ted Kopljar.

FAMILY AND EDUCATOR EVENTS

Nine PBS held various virtual parent and educator nights throughout the year to share PBS KIDS® resources, which help build kids' social and emotional learning, literacy, STEM, social studies, and art skills.

Nine PBS partners with trusted, local organizations to host immersive Power Hour learning sessions in our key priority areas: St. Louis City, North St. Louis County, East St. Louis, and rural Missouri. Drawn In Literacy Power Hours engaged families in playful learning by using the vibrant characters and storylines of Drawn In. Culturally relevant writing workshops encouraged early learners to be confident readers and writers.

MIDSUMMER CELEBRATION

We welcomed our donors and friends back to our home in Grand Center for a Midsummer Celebration in June. We rededicated the Public Media Commons in memory of Jack Galmiche and recognized Harvey and Judy Harris with our 2022 Pioneer Spirit Award.

MEMBERSHIP

We reward our members with exclusive screenings, online libraries of content, special invitations, and discounts. Our members are dear to us; we couldn't do it without them: nearly 85% of our funding comes from individuals and foundations in the St. Louis region.

44,500+ MEMBERS AS OF DECEMBER 31, 2022

VOLUNTEERS

In 2022, there were 52 active volunteers and 34 of them were members! Our volunteers spent 719 hours helping our impact, marketing, and individual giving teams, as well as with evaluations and events. Volunteers Phil Wright, Nancy Suelflow, Judy Woolsey, and Jane Thal received the inaugural Grand Volunteer Service Award for 1,000-plus hours of service at our annual Volunteer Appreciation event in November.

EARLY LEARNING INITIATIVE

Using a “highest need for highest impact” lens, our long-term vision for Nine PBS is to be a training hub for educators and caregivers across the region, where they can gain fluency using PBS KIDS media, curriculum, and resources to improve the educational experiences of young learners. By supporting underserved communities in our region, Nine PBS ensures that our work truly eliminates barriers for children and families.

GOALS OF EARLY LEARNING INITIATIVE

- Increase third grade literacy
- Increase school readiness
- Decrease the digital divide

DRAWN IN

WATCH. READ. PLAY. LEARN.

Drawn In is a series of epic adventure stories set in a bustling Midwest city. It follows four kids—Tyler Agbani, Nevaeh Campbell, Jady Harris, and Yeong-Ja “Grace” Park—who love comic books. In every adventure, their real world collides with characters from the comic world and the kids must catch and restore them to save the city from cartoon mayhem. Rooted in a literacy curriculum designed to improve grade-level fluency among kids ages 6-8, Drawn In is codeveloped alongside the Academy Award-winning, Black-led, St. Louis-based studio, Lion Forge Animation. Drawn In characters represent a variety of ethnic backgrounds and social identities, reflecting the children in our community.

To be an accessible resource anchored in the community, the Drawn In initiative relies on multiple tools and touchpoints for kids, families, and educators. The initiative creates opportunities for the community to watch, read, play, and learn. Kids can watch video shorts on air and online, read print and digital comics, play at community events like Storytime in the Commons, and learn through interactive educational games online and curriculum-based comic book writing workshops.

DRAWN IN IS A MULTIFACETED COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT INITIATIVE WHICH HAS:

Broadcast 4 specials featuring the animated shorts enhanced with live-action segments to reinforce the vocabulary words

Created 4 issues of the comic, with more than 220,000 comics distributed in the community

Created 16 video shorts

Hosted 50 Literacy Power Hour sessions within our 3 priority neighborhoods

Facilitated train-the-trainer sessions, helping the Nine PBS team pave the way for community partners to independently host Literacy Power Hours

Developed drawnin.org, which houses the comics, video shorts, and educational games

TEACHING IN ROOM 9

Since its 2020 launch, Teaching in Room 9 has remained the region's largest classroom—reaching more than 157,000 kids ages 2-11 and accruing 3.7 million views. Teaching in Room 9 airs daily on our main channel, making it accessible in 95% of homes across the St. Louis region, regardless of internet connectivity (Nielsen, 2022).

What started as a pandemic strategy has become important for children in all situations, especially the 54% of three- and four-year-olds not in school (Kids Count, 2021). In May 2022, Focus St. Louis recognized the efforts of Teaching in Room 9 with the Demonstrating Innovative Solutions Award at the annual What's Right with the Region Awards.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT FOR EDUCATORS

Nine PBS's professional development offerings in 2022 impacted 330 educators and nearly 5,500 students through 39 uniquely designed sessions, including structured and unstructured learning sessions called Playful Learning for Educators (PLE), book clubs, and online/in-person group discussions. Sessions are designed to spark ideas and thoughts around complex issues teachers face.

EDCAMP UNCONFERENCE

The first Nine PBS Edcamp took place in fall 2018 and has returned annually at the request of area educators. To meet the demand for educator-led professional development, Nine PBS hosted the unconference twice in 2022. Over the two events, 209 teachers joined in the conversation, impacting at least 3,100 early learners.

97% of attendees could imagine themselves using the ideas and resources they learned at Edcamp with young learners

87% of attendees felt their professional development needs were met

NINE PBS POWER HOUR SERIES

Quality time between caregivers and children is instrumental to healthy child development. Dedicated time together can develop social-emotional, cognitive, language, and self-regulation skills (America Academy of Pediatrics, 2018).

Nine PBS is dedicated to supporting out-of-school learning to increase school readiness. During the summer and other out-of-school times, students can experience a “slide,” or some loss in academic achievement. To help students practice school skills during these times, Nine PBS hosted 98 Power Hours in our priority neighborhoods of North St. Louis, North St. Louis County, and East St. Louis. The Power Hour series included literacy, science, and financial literacy. Each session was an opportunity for children and their families to gather, share a meal, and learn together. Power Hour lessons are designed by Nine PBS to align with state and federal curriculum standards. Lessons include hands on activities to help enhance learning.

“ THIS WAS A WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY! WE LOVED THE SESSIONS. MY SON GAINED SO MUCH CONFIDENCE!

—Power Hours Participant, 2022

WITTCOFF FELLOWSHIP

In 2022, the Raymond H. Wittcoff Fellowship expanded. In addition to the focus on North St. Louis, North St. Louis County, and East St. Louis, two additional fellows focused their energy on supporting rural communities and general support of early educators in the St. Louis region, respectively.

Through the work of the fellows, four new Nine PBS learning nooks were created in partnership with Agape Help House, Uni-Pres Kinder Cottage, Morningstar Academy, and Magic Happens Here. These learning nooks are small spaces, hosted by the community partners to connect early learners to PBS LearningMedia resources to increase school readiness. Wittcoff Fellows furnish the nooks with bookshelves, tables, books, educational toys, PBS Playtime Pads, and other early learning resources.

PBS LEARNING MEDIA

Nine PBS LearningMedia provides educational content online that is perfect for distance learning and resources that are easily searchable by subject, school standard, and grade (prekindergarten, early elementary, upper elementary, middle school, and high school).
