

A Day at the Park

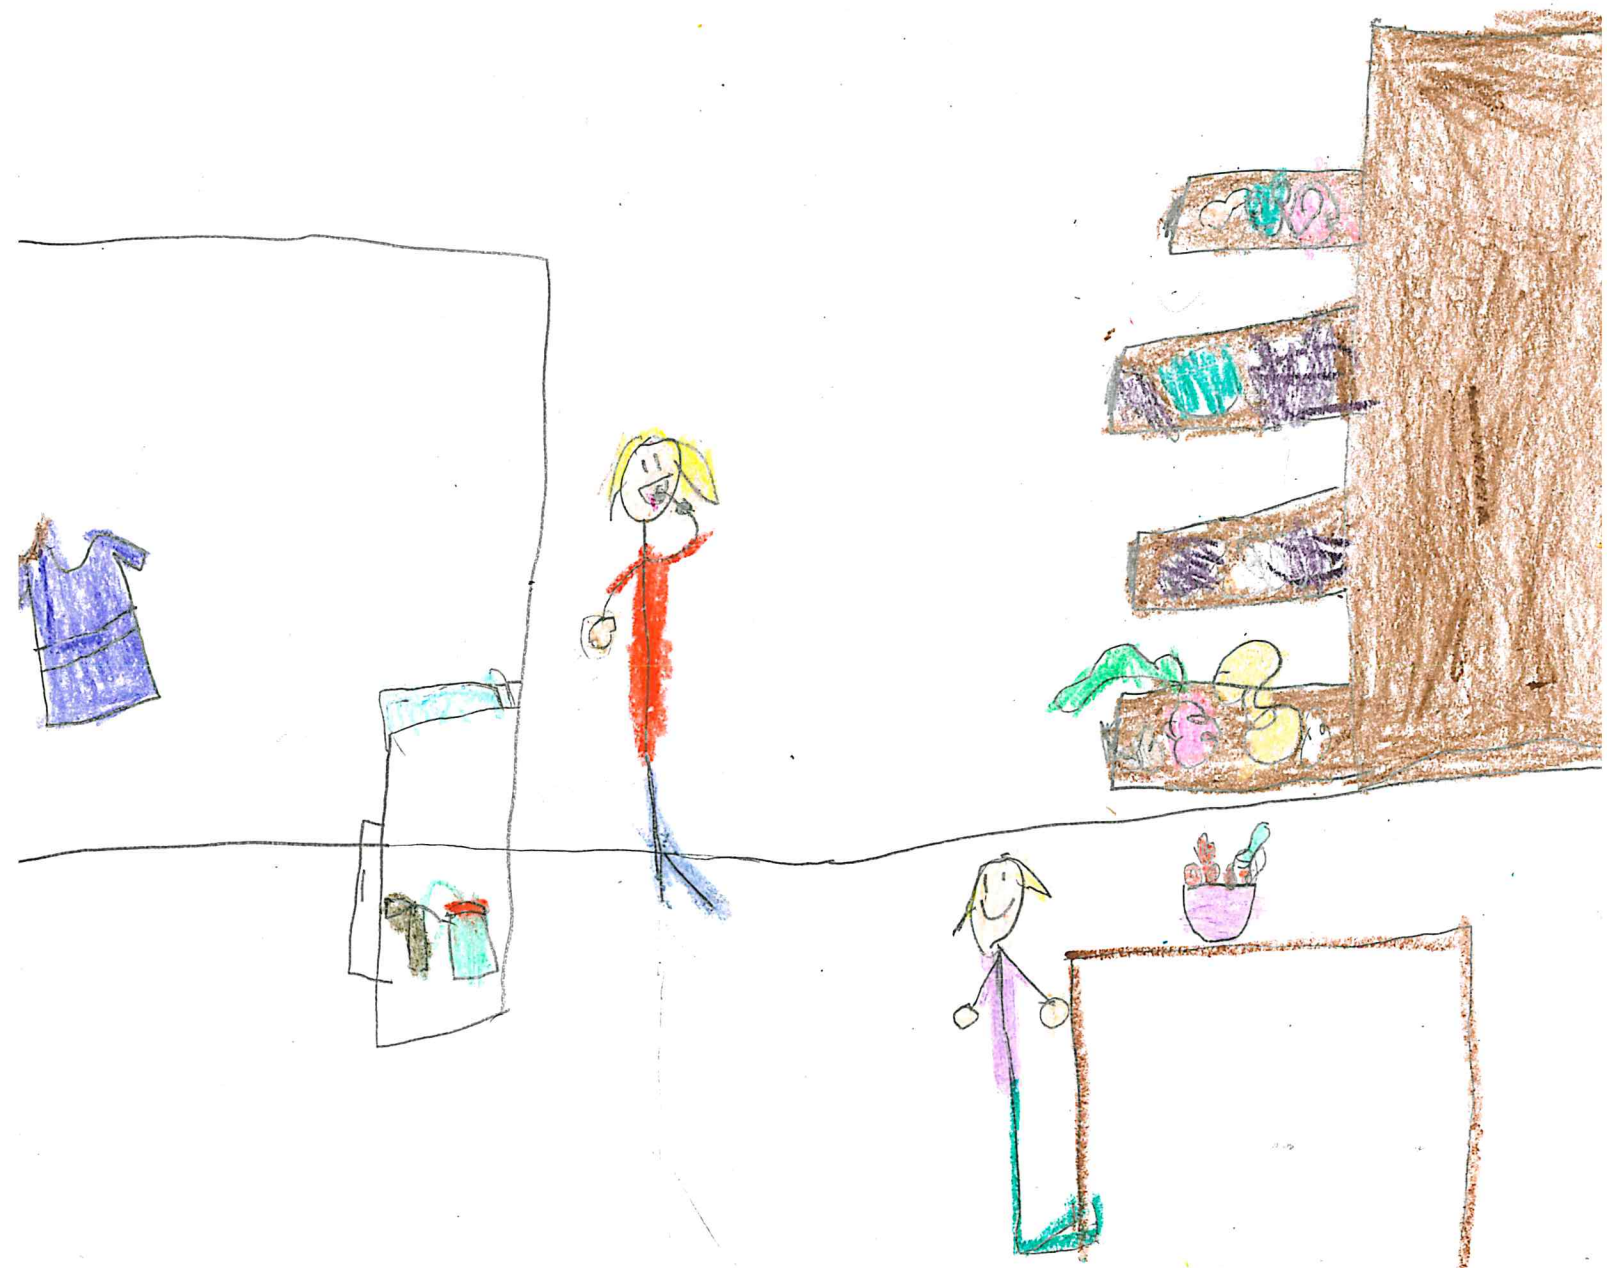

Written and Illustrated by Kate Jacobson

One day, I woke up and decided to walk to the park with my little sister.

We got ready to go. We got dressed, had breakfast, brushed our teeth, and started walking.

When we got there, we saw a beautiful waterfall flowing into a pond with ducks happily swimming around.

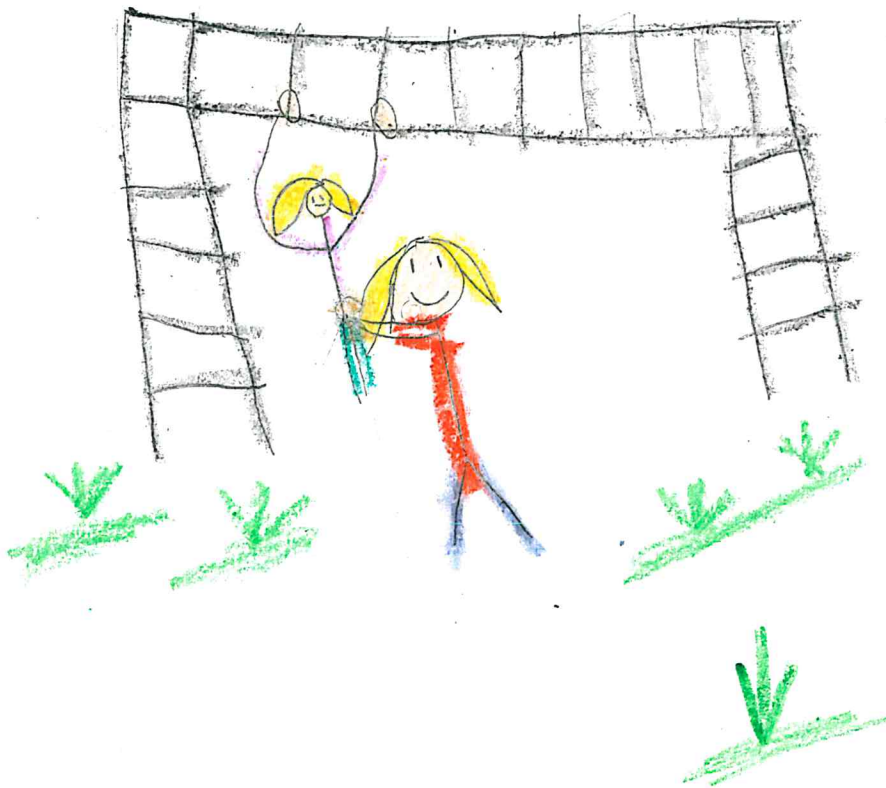

We saw flowers by the waterfall, like tulips and roses.

We went to the playground. My sister wanted to try the monkey bars, but she was scared.

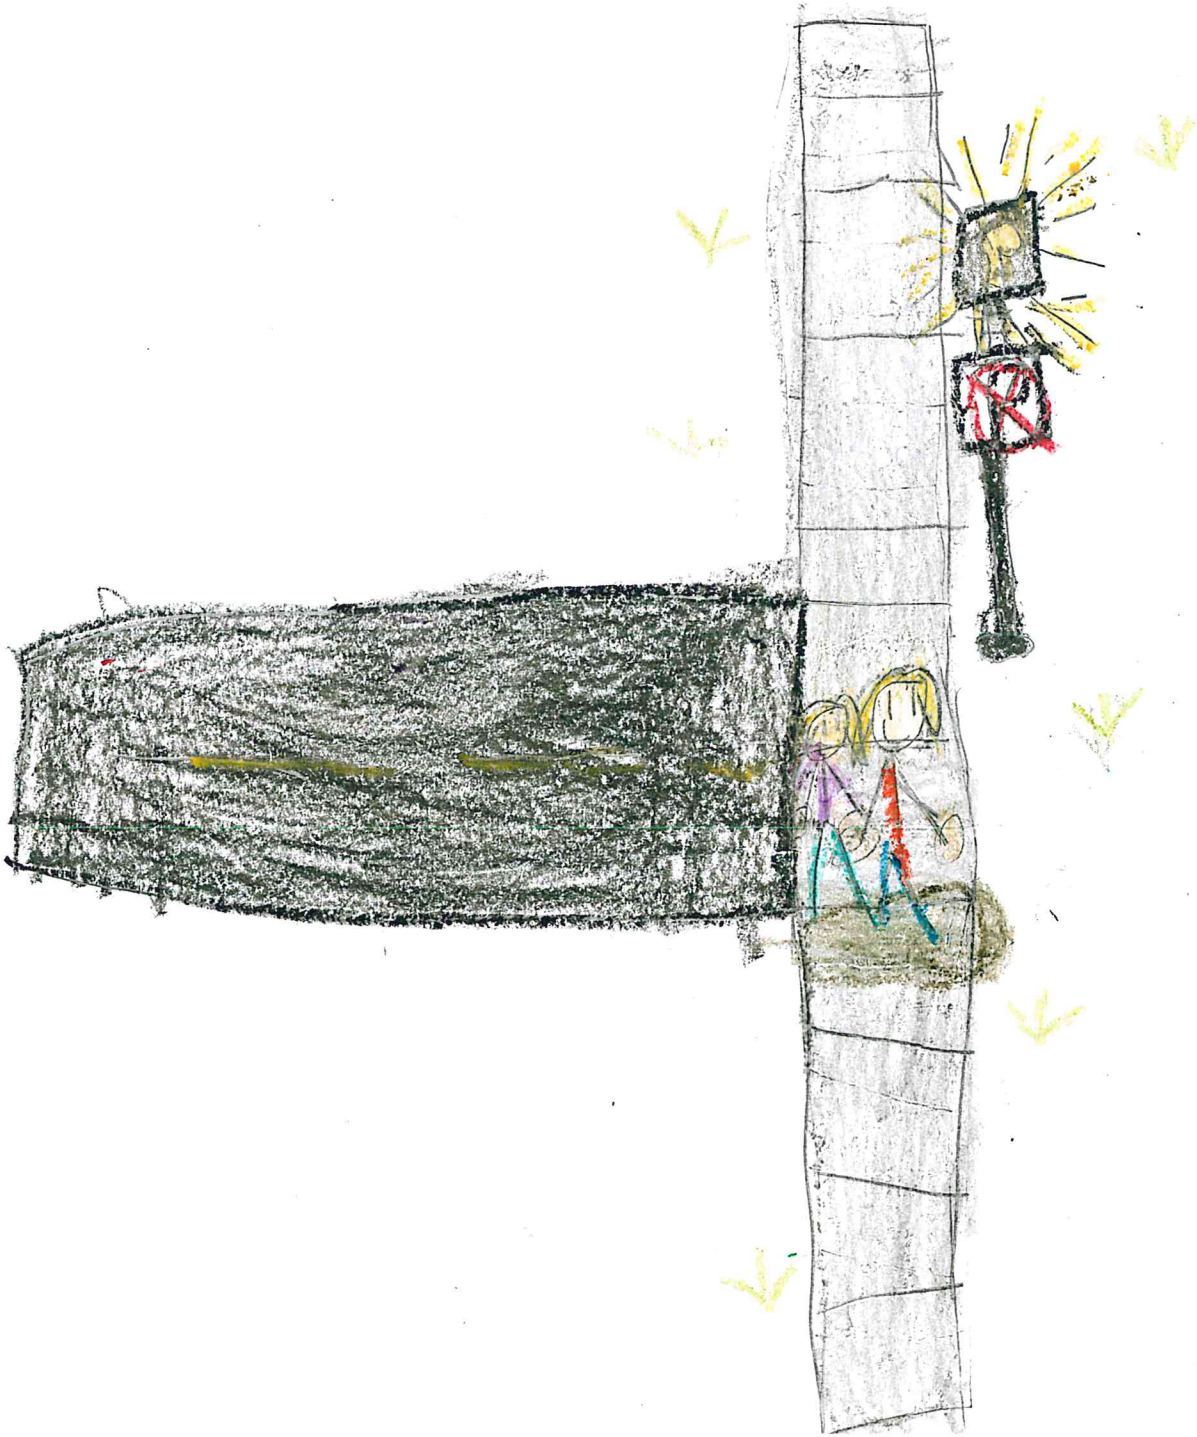

I lifted her up and helped her go across. She was happy I helped her, and she gave me a hug.

We walked back toward the waterfall to have a picnic. We ate sandwiches and fruit while the sun set over the pond.

Then we walked home. It was a great day.
