

by: Jaelyn Timon
Grade 1

There was a monkey jumping roping by a tree. His name is Banana. But Banana had to go to school. He got on the bus. When he got to school he couldn't eat. In class he couldn't work. The teacher sent him to the principal's office.

The principal said some important things, but he didn't listen. Banana went home. His mom told him, "You need to give me the jump rope!" He didn't. Banana hid it in the closet, then he did his homework.

The next day Banana started a food fight and had to go to the principal's office again. This time he listened and didn't do anything wrong. He only jumped rope at recess. Banana went home and his mom told him about his wonderful day.

The next day they had to move. "I don't want to leave! I want to see my friends," cried Banana. He took a nap. When he woke up he wasn't sad anymore. He knew he would see his friends again sometime.

When he got to his new house he made lots of friends. Banana was very good at his work and was very happy there too.