One day when I was walking home from school I saw something that looked like a flower with a face! So I came closer. It didn't notice. So I got a little bit closer. Then I touched it. Youch! I said. It was like touching a fire! Oh hi, said the monster. My name is Summer. Can I be your pet? Shore I said. Then I continued walking home with Summer.

As I continued walking home with summer, I saw another monster that looked like a human, but with eight arms and two legs. So I reached out and touched one of its arms. To my surprise it was made entirely out of water and tried to suck me in! Then I ripped my arm out. Oh hi. My name is whirlpool, can I be your pet? asked the monster. Shore, I said. Then I kept on walking with my two new friends.

When I finally got home there was a strange mist covering up my house. Then I saw a clover and picked it for my friends. But then it started growing! Pretty soon it was the size of a human! I + was a monster. Then two more monsters emerged from the mist. Sorry said the clover, my name is clover that's yellow the strange and that's double teal, said clover, can we be your pets? Sure I said and we all lived happily ever after.
