

Tortuga (turtle)

in

Mexico

Author

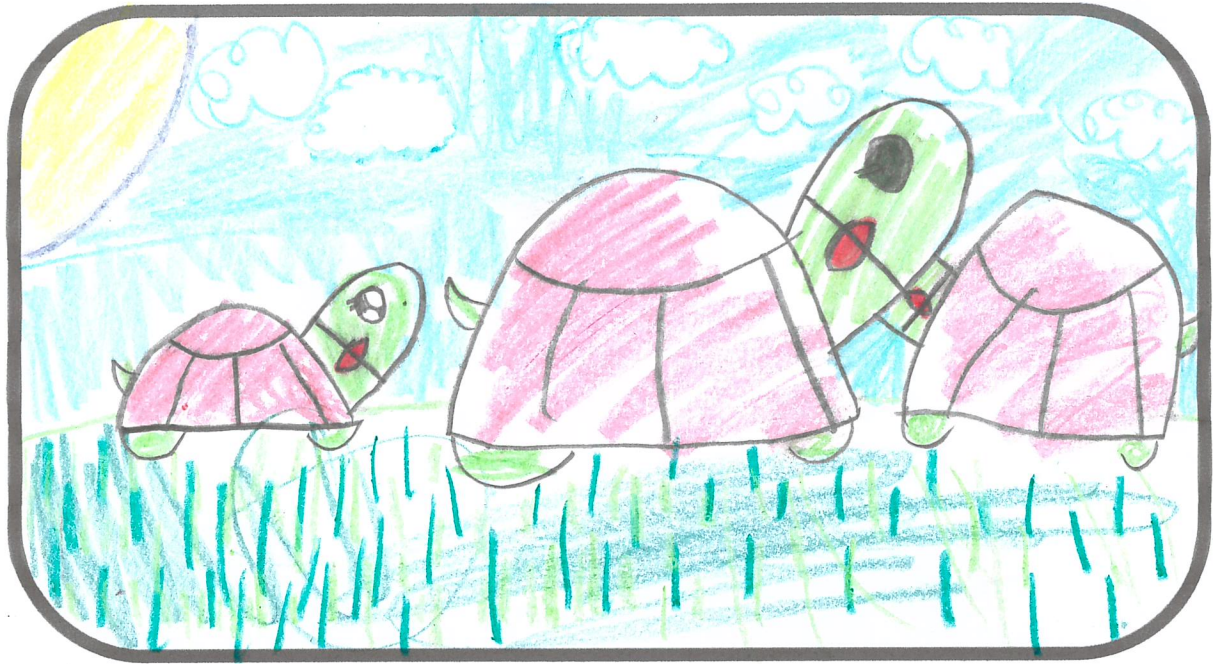

Illustrations

by

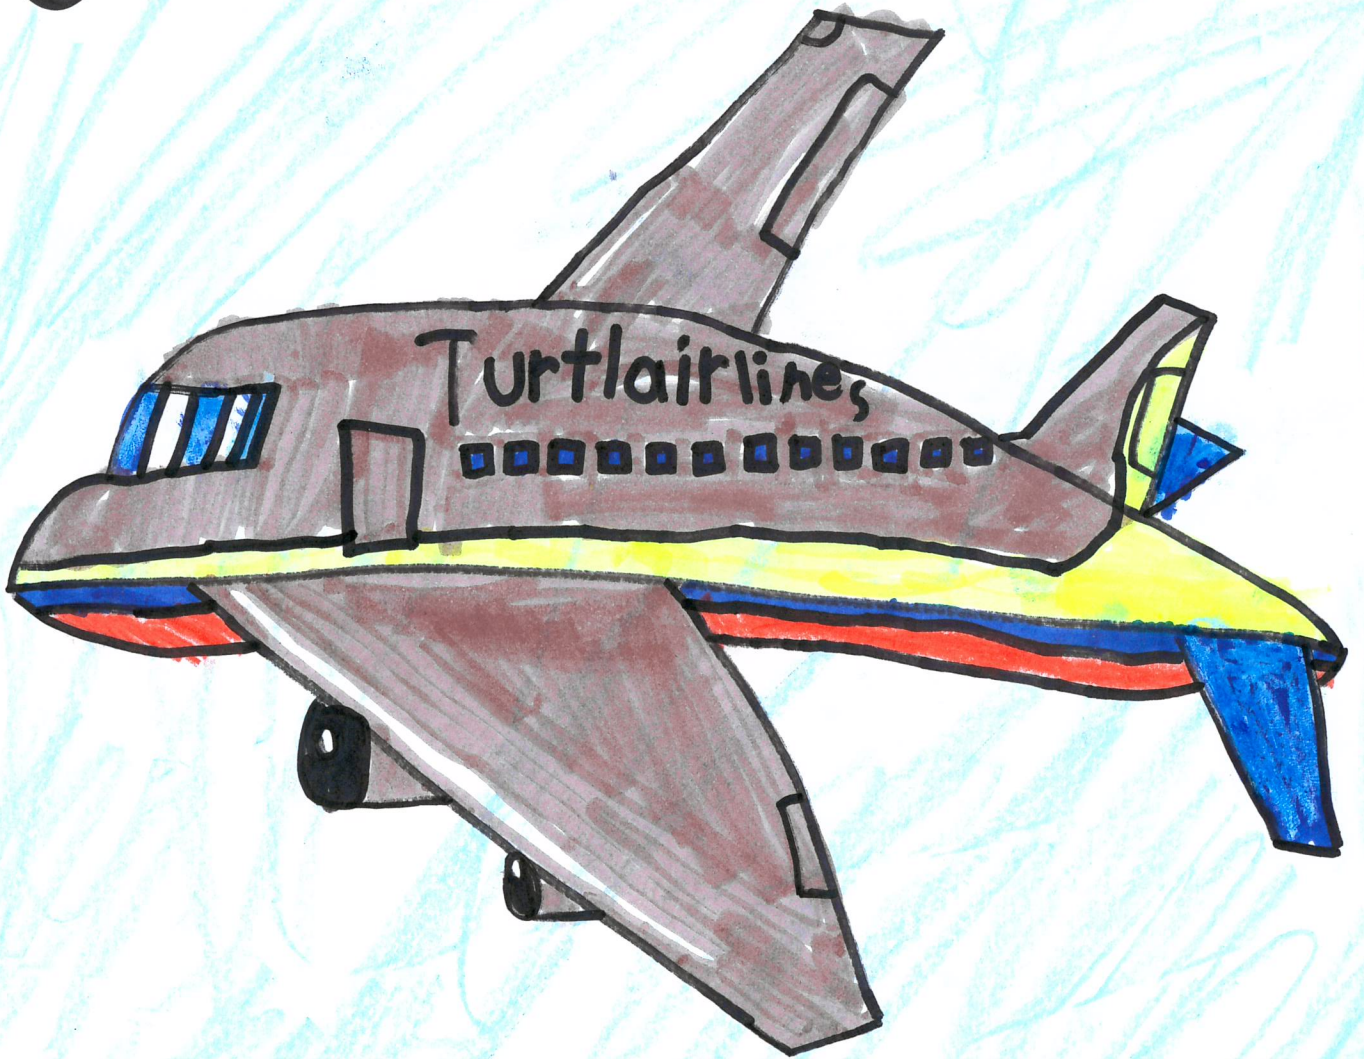

by

Ysabela

Ysabela

Once upon a time there was a baby turtle that lived in Mexico with a family in Tiny Turtleville. But no one could see them because they were so tiny. But one day there was an avalanche, so she had to decide if she wanted to get hurt or go to another country... CRASH! Before she knew it her families house was callapsing. Her mom and dad grabbed her. Her and her family quickly went to the airport.

They went to the USA. "Mama", said Squirtle.
"Yes", said Mama. "I'm scared." "It's going to be OK", said Mama. They sighed. "I wish we were still at our old house", said Mama. "I know Hunny!", said papa.
In the USA there was no Furtleville. So, they had to live in the pod in the plaza. The plaza was nice but it was too cold, So they went to the pet store and got adopted by me. The End

CRITTER KEEPER PETS

45

