The Mysterious Nest

By: Sadie Jones
A chilly wind blew in and the leaves were blowing everywhere. Winter was coming soon.
A squirrel spent all fall gathering acorns from the old oak tree by the river bank. She knew she needed a nest to stash her food in for winter, but she wasn't sure where to go.
Then she looked up up and found a perfect nest. There was nobody in it so she gathered up her acorns and sauntered up into the mysterious nest.
Out of nowhere an eagle swooped down from the sky and she grumbled, "What are you doing in my nest?"
Squirrel replied (in a scared voice), “I just needed a place to sleep for the long winter.” Eagle shouted, “Go find your own place!” Then suddenly...
Squirrel ran with all her might as Eagle whooshed down and tried to capture her in her sharp talons. Her talons were as sharp as a T-Rex's teeth and they were headed straight at squirrel.
Squirrel jumped and scurried from branch to branch trying to escape! But the branches ran out. The only way for Squirrel to escape the Eagle was to jump into the lupine field.
While Squirrel ran through the lupine field, she saw a hole in the ground. She quickly jumped inside as Eagle swooped towards her.
Finally, Squirrel was rescued! Mrs. Rabbit and her 10 baby bunnies welcomed Squirrel into their snug little den.
Squirrel was safe at last! She found a new family and a cozy little house in the lupine field.
