Book Corner

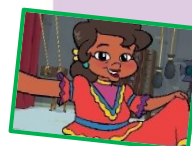

Celebrate National Literacy Month and Grandparents Day on September 8 with a read-along from PBS!

Events

Labor Day During the 1800s, all Americans - including children - worked twelve hours a day, seven days a week. In 1894, workers protested for fair labor laws and won, creating this American holiday.

Grandparents Day On September 8, you can show gratitude to your grandparents by spending the day completing their favorite activities, buying a gift, or designing a card.

(S) Science Safari

What is your favorite wild or exotic animal? Have you ever seen one in real life? A great place to see amazing animals is on a safari. Click the alligator to the right to go on a virtual water safari!

(T) Tech Tidbits

Get ready to have fun with the Work It Out Wombats! You can learn cool problem-solving skills through awesome hands-on activities, stories, and songs.

Ask a parent to help you download the Work It Out Wombats! Family App from your app store and start exploring!

(E) Engineering Explorers

What's so hard about rocket science? Click the rocket ship to the right and get ready to take off when you engineer your very own space vessel from Ready Jet Go! Using paper and string, you can create a pulley system that sends a gliding rocket ship soaring through space.

(A) Art Adventures

After going on a safari, inventing superpowers, and doing rocket science, you may be ready for a different kind of thinking! Click the canvas to make a cool digital beading project with Molly of Denali!

(M) Math Magic

It's George's Busy Day! Click on Curious George and help him count balls in the toy shop. Then experience more adventures with other fun number and counting games that use math skills in everyday situations!

Eating Right!

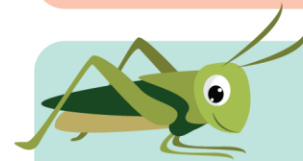

Apple Varieties

If you want a healthy treat this fall, try different types of apples! Experiment with new apple recipes, like candy covered apples! Then measure the level of sweetness for each apple you taste.

Jonagold apples are tart and crisp with a red and green exterior.

Fuji apples have pink skin and are popular for their sweet flavor.

Opal apples have golden skin, are sweet, and may smell like flowers.

Just for FUN!

Create a Bird Feeder

Customize your feeder Use an empty paper roll. Coat your feeder with peanut butter. Add sunflower seeds or birdseeds.

Hang your bird feeder You may use dental floss or a cotton string.

Snack time Birds and squirrels will enjoy their peanut butter and seeds.

Recycle your paper roll Watch as the paper falls onto the ground, breaks down into the soil and turns into compost.
