

PROFILE

Randy Farmer-O'Connor

Managing Director
Corporate Support

Randy Farmer-O'Connor joined Maryland Public Television in 2006 and was promoted in 2014 to her current position as managing director, Corporate Support, for the MPT Foundation, Inc.

Ms. Farmer-O'Connor manages a staff of four associates and is responsible for working across the state to enlist sponsors and promote partnerships that support MPT's on-air programs and station initiatives. She previously served as senior account executive in the same area.

Prior to arriving at MPT, Ms. Farmer-O'Connor held advertising sales positions with Baltimore-area radio stations WBAL-AM and WZBA-FM. She also served for several years as a sales consultant with Unishippers in Ebensburg, Pennsylvania. Earlier in her career she worked as a special education teacher at The Children's Guild in Baltimore and as a daycare teacher and childcare coordinator at several other organizations.

She earned a bachelor's degree in education from Lesley College in Cambridge Massachusetts, with a concentration in special education.

Ms. Farmer-O'Connor is past vice chair of the board of directors of local nonprofit Marian House and an active member of the Maryland Chamber of Commerce.

She resides in Easton, Maryland, with her husband. The couple has five children.

MARYLAND
PUBLIC
TELEVISION