Our Mission Begins with You

PBS North Carolina members like you do so much more than support the public television programs they know and love. They help us provide educational and emergency services to homes across our beloved state, impacting the lives of countless North Carolinians every day.

Thanks to your help, we can develop fun community events like the Rootle Roadster Tour, which shares playful learning experiences with kids and their families. Our second annual Impact Early Childhood Education Summit recently welcomed educators, parents and caregivers in Asheville to celebrate and support those helping young ones grow strong roots in literacy and beyond.

Your support enables us to upgrade our broadcast technology, not only to deliver a stronger, more reliable signal for your favorite shows but also provide first responders with vital information during emergencies. When first responders can receive instant alerts, lives are saved.

Thank you for making a difference as a member of our PBS North Carolina community!
