Celebrating Community!

This month, we'll release our annual Impact Report. From cover to cover, it reflects how supporters like you make an enormous difference in North Carolina.

All the projects highlighted in the report reflect an essential element, one that is central to everything we do: COMMUNITY.

Our impact story is a reminder that PBS North Carolina is made for and by you, our neighbors. Here's a snapshot of what your support made possible last year:

- 72 community events, initiatives, trainings and presentations impacting over 127,664 people, including children, parents, caregivers and educators.
- Teachers, caregivers and learners from 81 counties engaged with our educational resources and services.
- More than 700 teachers participated in professional development sessions, potentially impacting more than 10,000 learners in their classrooms.
- Our tower network provided infrastructure utilized by over 40 federal, state and local jurisdictions for emergency communications.
- 3,255 hours of local programs showcasing North Carolina's people, places and stories were produced.

When you support PBS North Carolina, you're investing in your community and amplifying the diverse and vibrant cultures that make it home. Thank you for investing in a brighter future for all.

THANK YOU, SECU FOUNDATION!

Like our members, our partners fuel our statewide impact. Here's what one of them has to say:

"SECU Foundation is proud to support PBS North Carolina's Year of the Trail series. Our state is home to miles of beautiful trails, greenways and recreation areas. We're excited to highlight these natural wonders and encourage folks to get out and explore all North Carolina has to offer."

—Jama Campbell, Executive Director, SECU Foundation

Say Hello to 'Lyla in the Loop'

This month, catch Lyla in the Loop, a new series starring Lyla, a seven-year-old girl living in a big city with her family. This show spotlights creative problem-solving and critical thinking skills. Watch at 7 PM on Rootle beginning Monday, February 5.

DIY Valentines

Here's a fun activity for all you art lovers. First, flatten a toilet paper roll so it has a crease on two sides. Push a crease inward to make a heart, and wrap tape around the tube to help hold the heart's shape. Pour paint onto a plate, dip an end of your heart into the paint and then press it onto paper or a card.

Share your creation with us on Instagram @rootlenc.
