It All Starts with You

PBS North Carolina exists because of members and viewers like you. Every day, your generous support ensures that our programming and services continue to shine as a trusted beacon for all who call North Carolina home.

MEMBERS PLAY AN ESSENTIAL ROLE AT PBS NORTH CAROLINA

Did you know that donations from individual donors make up more than half of PBS North Carolina's operating budget? Cassandra, a member from Greensboro, shares why she gives to PBS North Carolina:

I moved a lot as a child, but one thing that was always constant as a friend and companion throughout my life—PBS! It has never let me down. On nights I couldn't sleep with life's worries, even as an adult, PBS always kept me engaged in something informative. From faraway places that I can explore right from my living room to great historical places to visit here in my own state of North Carolina, PBS has me covered. There is no greater place to donate than right here. PBS is a part of the family because now my grandchildren get to enjoy it as well. I will always support it! We love PBS!”

Friends like you ensure PBS North Carolina can give life to memorable storytelling, meaningful conversations and exceptional educational content. Thank you for your support!

31 Teens, 1 Epic Ride

In 1982, a group of optimistic teenagers set off on a cross-country bike ride to raise money for and awareness of multiple sclerosis. The four-part documentary Shadow of a Wheel follows their epic journey from California to Cape Hatteras and explores how it altered their lives forever.
