

STEM Works: Breadware

The engineers at Breadware say that when technology fails, it becomes an opportunity to re-make something better. Think of an electronic device you have today, or a toy you had when you were younger, that broke. Use the space below to design this product better.

Item that Broke: _____

Problem:

Why do you think this item broke? What part might need to be redesigned to keep this from happening again?

Design Your Solution Below:

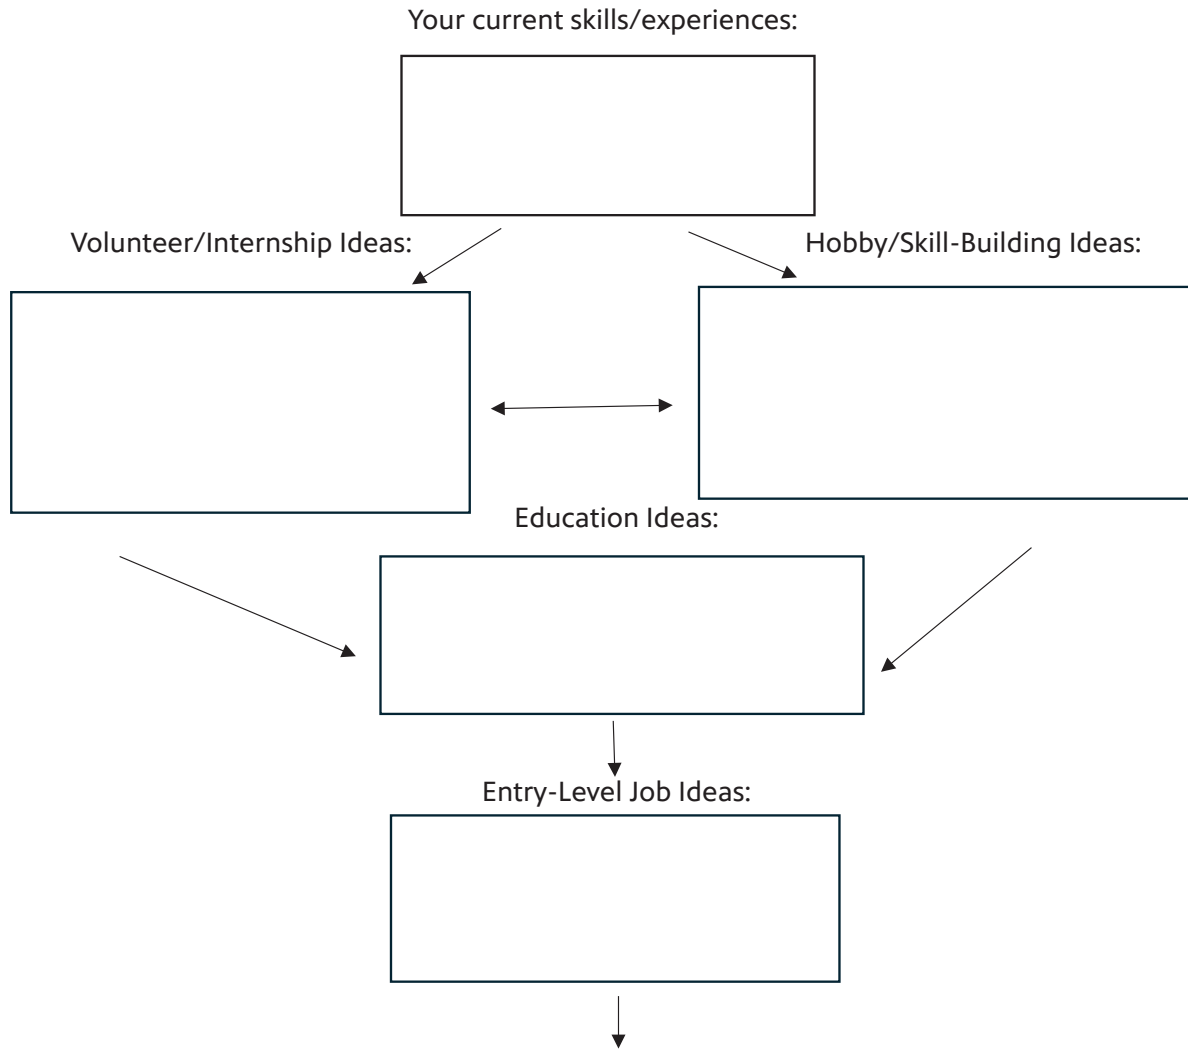

How will this make sure your item doesn't break in the future?
