A Capitol Fourth
They were known as the “Ghost Army,” the US Army’s select unit of combat creatives who specialized in the art of battlefield deception. Theirs was a war of imagination using inflatable tanks and vehicles, fake radio transmissions, and sound effects to hoodwink Nazi forces, help liberate Europe, and save thousands of lives.

When their advisor called, I knew my parents were still watching out for me.
Mom had a nose for business but Dad was more of an artist. Once they both passed on and I was left with the real estate Mom accumulated, I realized that I got my business sense from my father. I’m definitely Daddy’s little girl. I found myself sitting at mom’s desk, staring at a little wooden boat my dad had carved and crying. I was so overwhelmed. But then my phone rang. Tim was calling to check in on me. He shared memories of Mom and Dad and also had some ideas for how to make this transition easier: paying bills, upkeep on the properties, managing investments – stuff like that. Reaching out to check on me may seem like a little thing but it’s made all the difference.

Reduce Your Business’s Energy Expenses and Boost Your Bottom Line

PowerShift Business Energy Services provides cash back to business customers who submit incentive applications for existing facility improvements, major renovations and new construction projects. Business Energy Services has helped Nevada customers save more than 2.4 billion kWh, which equals $182 million in savings.

Energy management is one of the most promising profit improvement and cost reduction strategies available for businesses. Upgrading to newer and more efficient technology saves energy and money. The program offers retrofit incentives for equipment upgrades including lighting, cooling, commercial kitchens, compressed air and other measures. New buildings that exceed energy code requirements by 5% or more may be eligible for new construction incentives. Energy efficiency offers long-term cash savings, reduced operating costs, improved occupant comfort, and reduced carbon footprint. Plus, the program trains contractors to become part of the Contractor Network. These professionals support projects every step of the way, from selecting and installing equipment, to completing the incentive application and ensuring customers get the highest possible savings.

Get a free interactive Business Energy Savings Guide to learn more about energy efficiency projects that qualify for cash incentives.
