

The Blue and Grey Sky Day
by Marta

Violet woke up.

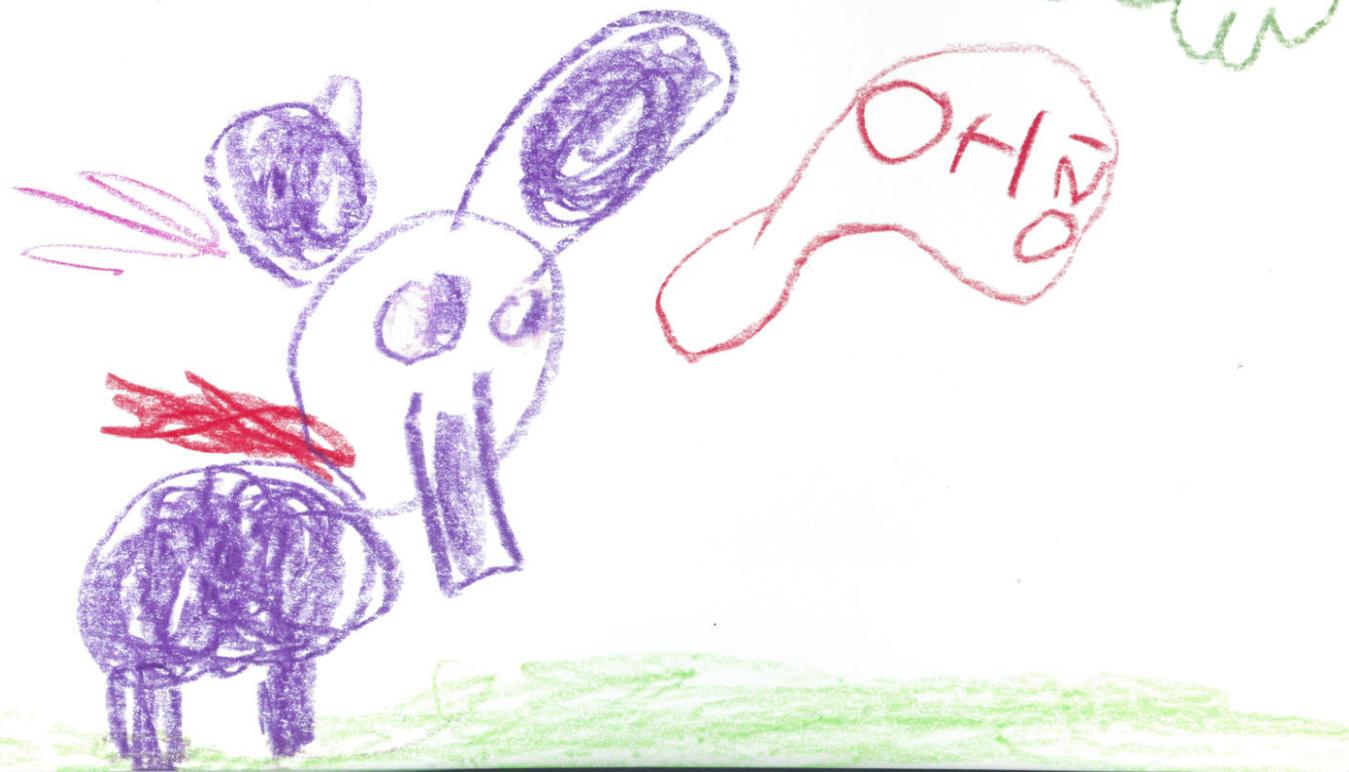

She looked to the sky.

The sky was grey.

Violet had her morning snack.

She checked the sky again.

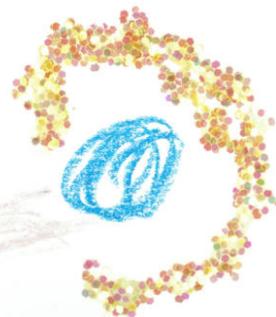

Still not blue.

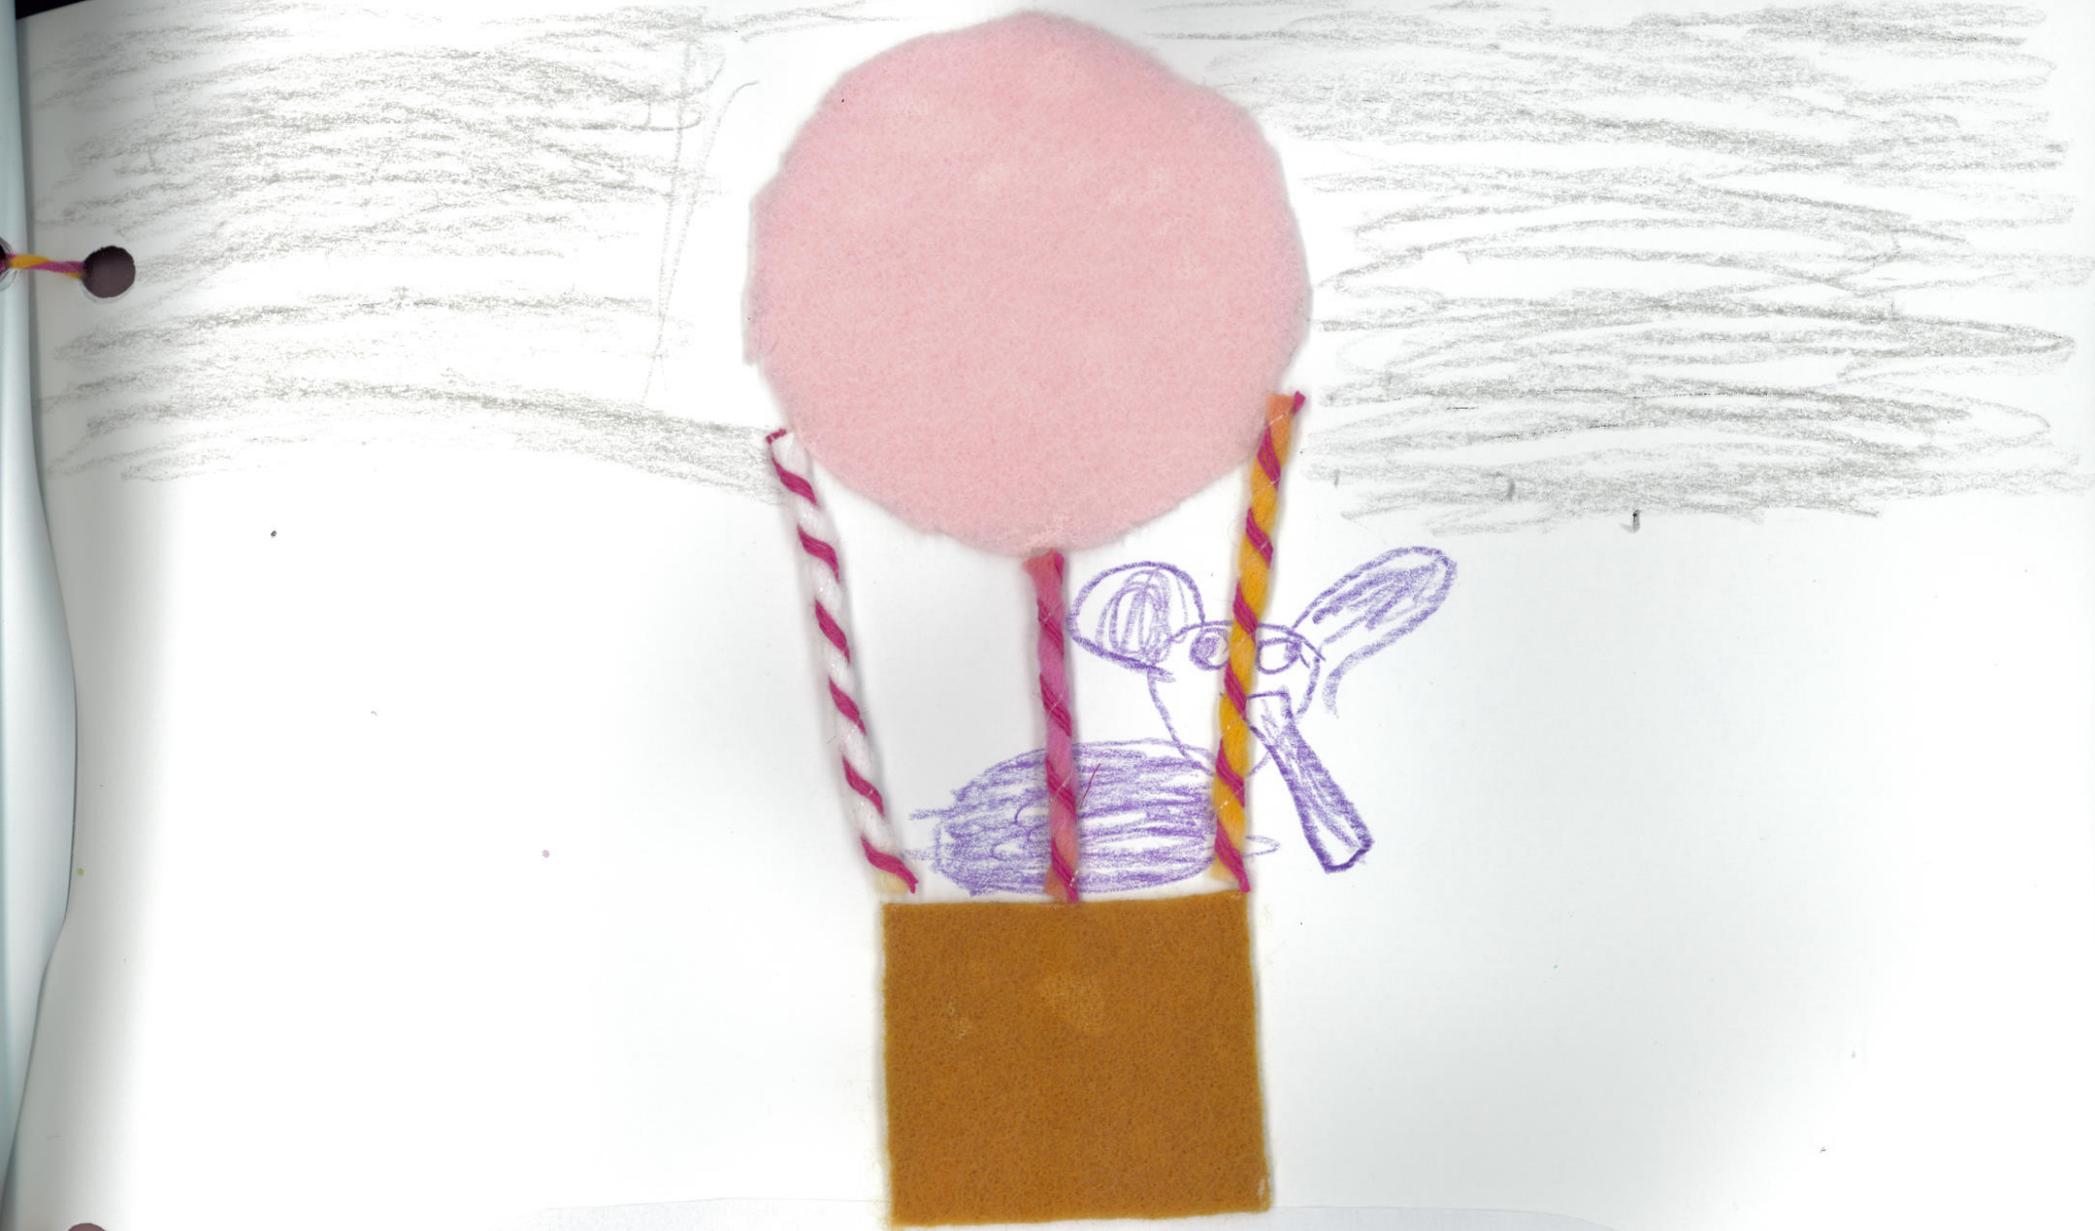

Violet had a great idea.

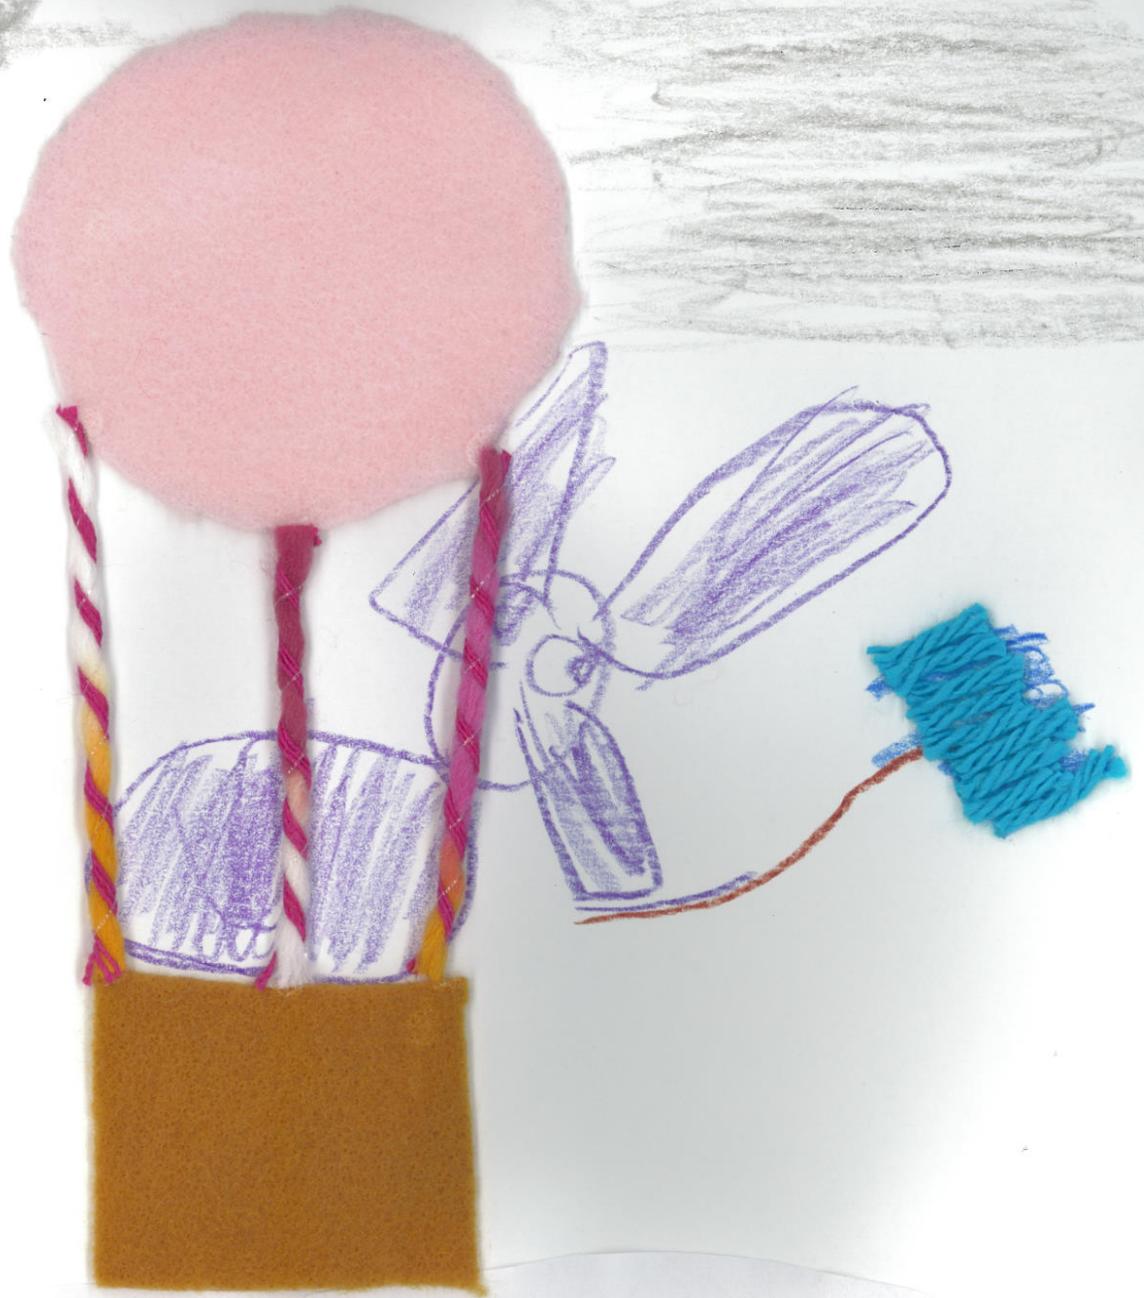

She waved her magic wand.

But the sky did not turn blue.

She took her hot air balloon and went up to the sky.

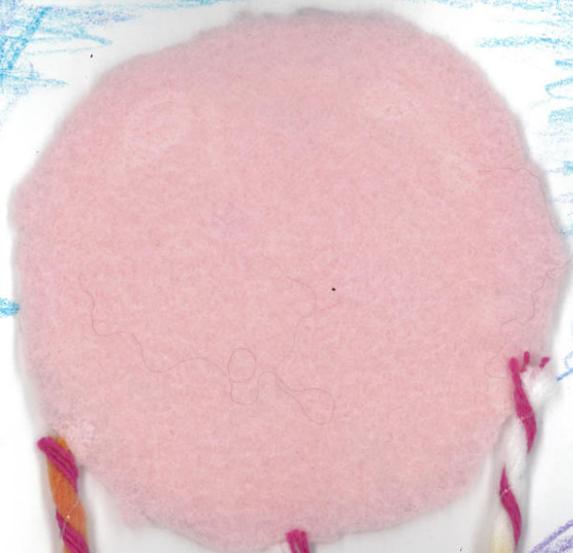

She dipped her broomstick into blue paint and swept it over the sky.

But the broomstick was not long enough.

Violet took out her magic potion. She sprinkled it over the sky.

WUW YIPPEE

The sky turned blue. Yippee!