

The Big Invisible Pony

BY Aria H [REDACTED]

Once upon a time there was a big invisible pony. The big red Clifford was a crumb to this pony. The pony was named Wild, but there was a problem.

Whatever she touches turns invisible. When people touch the pony, they turn invisible. But, the pony didn't know that. One day she turned the city invisible.

Then all the people saw the big invisible pony. Then for 50 days the town was invisible.

One day a person touched her and she turned invisible and shrunk. That person who made her shrink took care of her.

A little girl took care of her. She brushed her every day and gave her water and food. They lived happily ever after. The end.

