

"ScreenZombie" by Ruth [redacted]

Once there was a boy named
Gil. He loved
screens.

One day he watched so many
screens that his family got
worried.

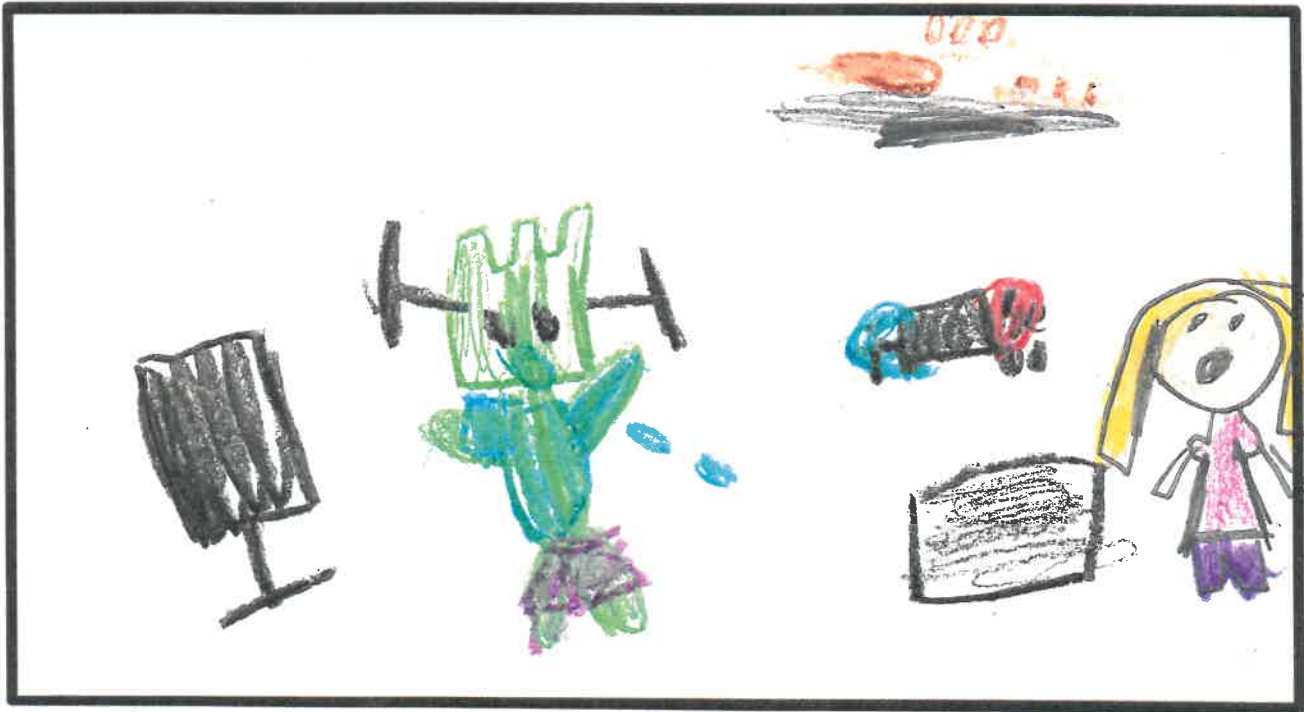

They said he
should turn
off the TV or
he will turn
into a screen zombie
but he did not believe
them.

A few hours later
 he was still on screens. He felt dizzy
 he felt tired
 He started moving very slowly. He was a screen zombie.

Zombie Gil
started stealing
all the screens.
He ate all the cookies
he made bad
choices.

"What should we do?" said his mom. His sister ANNA knew what to do. They gathered all the screens.

Finally, Gil was cured.
The whole family was happy. They read books
together until bedtime.
