

The Polluted Lake

By Eli Z [REDACTED]

Once upon a time there was a frog and a fish. They lived in a lake. Every now and then they played Marco Polo.

One day they noticed it was very windy and a trash can was knocked over. It spilled trash in the clean lake. The fish and frog realized the lake was very dirty.

Then they realized they needed some cleaning tools. But, how will they get them? The frog tells the fish not to worry because he can walk on land.

He hops toward the city so he could search for tools. The frog looks through boxes in the alley. He found random toys. He found weird clothing and even a cantaloupe, until he found the tools.

boing

He hops back to the pond to clean. Frog and fish clean the pond happily as can be. The end.

